North Shore Activities

One of the problems that the boy officers of the twenty scout troops represented at the Junior officers conference held last Saturday morning at the Glencoe Union church was the living of the scout oath and law. "A scout who simply wears a uniform and earns badges," one of the scouts remarked, "is a fraud, unless he also tries hard to live up to the spirit and the letter of the Boy Scout oath and law."

"We must impress upon the scouts in our patrols and our troops that they are scouts all the time," says James Quigley, patrol leader of troop 45, Lake Forest.

Jack DeBeers, a patrol leader of troop 22, Glencoe says "We must let the members of our patrols know that a scout should act as a scout everywhere."

A senior patrol leader, emphasizing the importance of habits of conduct outside of the troop meeting said, "If you can be good at only one place it is better to be good at home than at scout meetings. Then you're not sailing under false colors in your troop!"

Before a boy may advance to certain ranks, he must bring a written statement from school and home certifying that he has been conducting himself in harmony with the spirit of scouting.

The group was agreed that the best way to gear the scouting program into the boys habits of conduct was through experiences in doing good things together. Individual good turns and patrol good turns and troop good turns are being planned in their troops.

A boy becomes good through doing good!

The May Junior Officers conference will be held at Lake Forest on Saturday morning, May 14.

The conference expressed their thanks to their hosts last Saturday, Troop 21 and 22 of Glencoe, who provided the meeting place and the luncheon. Everybody had a good time and more than enough to eat!

CIVIC MUSIC ANNUAL IN CHICAGO APRIL 24

The great annual festival of the Civic Music association of Chicago will be held in Orchestra hall, Sunday afternoon, April 24. At this concert there will be heard the massed choruses of children's voices—800 strong—which have been trained by the association's teachers. The Civic orchestra, Frederick Stock, director, will play three works and there will be community singing under the direction of Frederick Carberry.

The children's chorus will be a feature of great interest. It will interpret two groups of part songs and a cantata, "The Voyage of Arion" by Earl V. Moore, under the direction of Felix Borowski. Mr. Stock's and Mr. DeLamar's training of the Civic orchestra has brought international fame to that organization and its members will offer playing of unqualified worth.

Remember the good old days when cotton stockings were used for something else than hanging by the fireplace on Christmas eve?
