COMPLETES THESIS ON REGIONAL STUDY

Arnold Mason of Highland Park, Mentioned in Publicity of Pennsylvania U

Arnold D. K. Mason, of Highland Park, Illinois, has completed a thesis on "The Tri-State Regional Planning Study," for the Research department of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce of the University of Pennsylvania, according to a news item sent out by the university's publicity department.

Mason, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Mason, 301 Central avenue, is engaged in the final writing of his thesis which is a requirement for graduation from the Wharton school, each member of the senior class being obliged to do a piece of original business research before receiving his diploma.

The senior research is one of the most important phases of the Wharton school curriculum and marks a definite attempt to give the graduating students a taste of practical business problems. This year over 500 students carried on research, 70 per cent of whom were engaged in field work.

YEA BO! LET'S GO! TO THE GARDEN MARKET

Flowers, Bulbs, Garden Tools, Bird Houses and Other Needs for Sale

Plans for Deerfield's first garden market to be held Saturday May 14 in the school yard at two o'clock have been completed.

There will be wild flowers, perennial and annual plants, nursery stock, garden tools and bird houses, made by the Boy Scouts, for sale at extremely reasonable prices. An exhibit of tulips will enable one to select next year's bulbs from the blooms.

Franken Brothers, Inc., the Rustic Nursery, the Ravinia nurseries, the Deerfield nursery and the J. R. Notz Hardware store, as well as the school children and members of the Garden club, are all contributing generously to assure a wide selection to the garden lover.

In the poster contest the first prize of two dollars was won by Frederick Piepenbrok, the second prize of one dollar went to Mary Neargarder. Two third prize ribbons were awarded to cousins, Ruth Frantz and Olive Frantz. Honorable mention was made of the posters of "Dubby" Peterson, Ethel Morgan, Mary Jane Galloway, Laura Neargarder and Ruth Johnson. In case of rain the market will be held in the basement of the school.

HYDROX is the richest Ice Cream made anywhere in the world in any real volume. It is far richer in butter fats and higher in food values because of the great quantities of pure rich cream that go into it. It is richer in flavor because only true flavors — the actual fruits themselves — are used in its making. And it is the pride of Hydrox that its cream is so pure that the tiniest child or even a very sick person can eat of it with absolute safety.
