Dedication Soon

Fun Rally Is Success

With beautiful weather after the fine spring shower of the evening before, the annual Scout Fun rally for the North Shore troops, held in Forest Preserve at the "Cabin in the Woods" west of Glencoe, May 21, 2:30 to 5:00 p. m., started off with the call "assembly" by one of the scout buglers. The first event, inspection, was won by troop 13 of Kenilworth after much discussion among the judges which was caused by the close competition from troops 55 Glenview, 21 Glencoe, and 2 Wilmette, which were awarded second, third, and fourth places respectively. The nine events which followed covered many phases of scouting and furnished much amusement to spectators and contestants alike. The "Wool Hunt" especially was very amusing. Small bits of wool were scattered through the woods as if sheep had been roaming there and then when the time for the hunt came, over two hundred scouts rushed forward with a shout to see which group of eight could gather the most wool. After ten minutes of exciting search recall was sounded and it was discovered that troop 3 of Winnetka had the best wool hunters with patrols from troops 23 Glencoe, 13 Kenilworth, and 31 Highland Park, ranking second, third and fourth.

The other events went as follows: Bugling—Hunt, 23 Glencoe, first; Guthrie, 1 Winnetka, second; Lothrop, 21 Glencoe, third; D. Hicks, 21 Glencoe, fourth. Water Boiling—First, 55 Glenview; second, 3 Winnetka, third, 32 Highland Park; fourth, 2 Wilmette. Signalling—Wig Wag: first 1 Winnetka; second 2 Wilmette; third, 21 Glencoe. Signalling—Semaphore: first, 1 Winnetka; second, 24 Hubbard Woods; third, 2 Wilmette; fourth, 32 Highland Park. Fire-by-friction (bow and drill): first, 13 Kenilworth; second, 13 Kenilworth; third, 13 Kenilworth; fourth, Sea-scouts, troop 7, Wilmette; Scout Richardson won first. Fire by flint and steel: first, 1 Winnetka; second, 3 Winnetka, third, 3 Winnetka; fourth 1 Kenilworth. Scout Pace: first, M. Traub, 31 Highland Park; second 21 Glencoe; third 31 Highland Park; fourth 31 Highland Park. Knot Tying: first, tie between 1 Winnetka and 55 Glenview, third, 13 Kenilworth and fourth, 21 Glencoe.

Final standing of contest—13 Kenilworth, 47 points; 1 Winnetka, 40½; 21 Glencoe, 33; 55 Glenview, 26½; 23 Glencoe, 25; 3 Winnetka, 22; 24 Hubbard Woods, 20; 31 Highland Park, 18; 2 Wilmette, 17; 32 Highland Park, 11; 52, Deerfield, 10; 22 Glencoe, 6; 61 Northbrook, 6; 7 Wilmette, 2.

REO SPEED TRUCK AID TO MERCHANT

Changes in modern business, requiring the successful merchant to establish an increasingly closer contact with his customers, have formed the subject of a special investigation by the Reo Motor Car company. As a result of this investigation, the new Speed Wagon Junior, a parcel delivery truck with unusual features, has just been placed on the market.

This new commercial vehicle has been built to help merchants meet the new competition and the new conditions of traffic and of distribution, and to aid them in vitalizing their businesses in the all important matter of contact with customers, explains W. C. Parker, in charge of the Speed Wagon division of the Reo Motor Car company.

"More and more, the business of the retail merchant is transacted at long distances, rather than face to face—over the telephone, rather than over the counter," Mr. Parker says. "More and more, a customer's only contact with a merchant for days at a time is with the truck that delivers his purchases."

"The Speed Wagon Junior has been built especially to help merchants turn this contact into a real asset. The new truck is trim, smart, fast and efficient, because a merchant's success is advertised by the type of commercial vehicles he uses. It attracts the better sort of driver, and a better driver is a better representative of the concern he works for—is more capable of making his personal contact with customers as smart and business-like as the truck with which he delivers the goods."
