RAVINA PROGRAM FOR COMING WEEK

EXTRA MONDAY EVENING

Special Performance of "Tosca" with Madame Gall in Lead; Other Notable Features Listed

Like rare old wine, the current season of Ravinia opera and concerts gets better and better as time speeds by, and although Mr. Eckstein would seem to have set a record for the week just drawing to a close, there is to be no let down during the seven day period which begins Sunday, August 14th.

Another extra performance has been arranged for Monday night, August 15th, this occasion bringing Puccini's great dramatic opera "Tosca" to the attention of Ravinia patrons for the first time this season. Madame Yvonne Gall who by reason of her splendid performance in "Thais" last Monday night completely won all who heard her, will have the title role, which will reveal still another phase of her versatility and will show her to advantage in a part which is purely dramatic in its vocalization. Giuseppe Danise will be heard as Scarpia, one of his most powerful roles, and Edward Johnson will be cast as Cavaradossi.

Another High Spot
Another of the season's high spots will be reached on Tuesday night, when "La Vida Breve," which made such an appeal when first presented at Ravinia last season that four performances of it had to be given to satisfy the public demand, will be presented. Madame Lucrezia Bori will of course, be cast as Salud, the tragic little Kyra.

Giuseppe Danise
In this great singing actress not only has the opportunity to characterize her individual and colorful fashion, but which she sings in her native Spanish tongue. It is doubtful whether in her entire repertoire Madame Bori has a part which is more intense in its dramatic moments, or which makes greater demands both as to acting and singing. CIVIC CALENDAR TO BE COMPILED WEEKLY

Ossoli Club to Have Charge; All Organizations Should List Engagements

At the suggestion of the Rev. Mr. Frank Fitt, the Ossoli club is undertaking the work of sending to the newspapers of Highland Park, every week, a civic calendar. This calendar will give the dates of the meetings and large social events planned by the churches, clubs and other organizations for the coming season.

Mrs. Xavier Vigeant, 341 N. Linden avenue, Highland Park, has charge of this work. She will greatly appreciate the co-operation of any who have charge of such events in any of the city organizations. If they would each write or phone her the minute they decide upon a date for a card party, lecture, dance or banquet, then she will see that that date is included in the weekly calendar. It is hoped that this work will do away to a large extent, with the danger of two affairs being planned for the same day.

Popularity Contest Ends In Two Weeks; Keen Rivalry Noted

Only two weeks more before the popularity contest ends. The last minute flood of votes would stagger the spirits of a dozen experienced election ballot checkers.

The dozen or more leading contestants have run their totals away up into the several thousands, and ardent supporters are busier than ever collecting and casting votes for their favorites.

The beautiful Whippet Collegiate roadster which has been on display nightly on the sidewalks in front of the Alcyon theater is certainly a prize worth winning and the inspiration for this vote getting scrimmage. The voting is getting so warm and the struggle for the lead is so energetic and the leading candidates so close that each of a dozen different contestants are claiming victory with every degree of assurance.

August Haak, general chairman of the contest and donor of the prize, has already enlisted the aid of a big clerical force for the grand checking up on the final night to expedite matters but even at that its going to be some job for the judges on the final night.

Thursday, Aug. 25, at the Alcyon theater the final pour in of votes will be counted while the performance is going on. From time to time during the show the audience will be advised of the latest returns, and after the first show the final and official standing will be made public, the winner announced and called from the audience and publicly presented with the prize.

Directing manager Godshaw is going to reward the next ten girls in order behind the winner with an annual pass good for the Alcyon theater for one year. Every girl with as many as 500 votes will be rewarded also with an Alcyon pass for a duration of time commensurate with their voting average. Thus every contestant will receive a prize worth while.

The following list of names according to their standing in the contest is announced.

Cleona Udell, Astrid Nelson, Tat Monahan, Genevieve Mowers Benay, Mildred Rouse, Amanda Clavey, Rene Dars, Louis Baralari, Josephine Shepskie, May Farrant, Ethel Skidmore, Tessie Sheahan, Katherine Muller, Eleanor Conrad, May West, Bertha Williams, Florence Glader, Jenny Savine.

CHALLENGE TOURNAYS FEATURED AT PARK

Sunset Playground Activities Many and Varied, Appeal to All Ages

Challenge tournaments in tennis, horseshoes, and tether ball are being played at Sunset park playground. Games are arranged so that newcomers may challenge the leading player and get into play. This tournament play adds much to the interest of the game, especially as a contestant who is beaten may practice and again challenge the leading player.

Bowling on the green is possible except on very wet nights. Come over and enjoy a game.

An adult class has been begun at Sunset park in basketry and chair caning. Old chairs may be reupholstered during leisure hours and at very small cost. Anyone is welcome to join this class on Tuesday afternoons.

Rainy days do not stop the fun at Sunset park. Children come in slickers, bathing suits or old clothes and in the morning handwork continues in one of the shelter houses instead of under the trees as on sunny days. On rainy afternoons the groups play the quieter games in the shelter houses.

COMMERCE CHAMBER HAS SHORT SESSION

Hear Fine Reports of Highland Park Day; Planning to Give Orphans Outing

The monthly session of the Highland Park Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday evening in Witten's hall, was a short one and devoted chiefly to hearing reports on Highland Park Day and winding up affairs connected with that celebration. All reports showed it to have been the best Highland Park Day ever observed here, with everybody well satisfied with the entertainment provided.

The Park Board's share of the receipts will total more than $800. This money goes toward paying for the dance platform in Sunset Park.

On August 17 members of the Chamber will provide cars to take children from the Dorcas Home to Lincoln park, where Chicago charitable agencies are putting on a day's entertainment for orphans of this region, as well as those of Chicago.

OLSON AND HILL TO MEET

Stiff Battle for Local Open Championship Is Expected; Results of Play Last Sunday; Notes

Next Sunday Art Olson and Kenneth Hill will clash in the finals of the annual open championship tournament at the Sunset Valley Golf club, Highland Park's own popular municipal course, and a great match is in prospect and a large attendance of fans assured. The trophy is the Moraine cup, donated by F. W. Cushing.

In one of the fastest foursores that has ever competed for honors in the open championship, Art Olson, the "Bobby Jones of Highland Park," defeated Ed Laing 7 and 6 to play, last Sunday over the Sunset Valley Golf course. Olson played superb golf all throughout the entire eight holes, finishing with a grand total of 69 tying his previous record and finishing one stroke over the club record. Laing played a good game but it was inevitable that Olson should win due to his consistent good golf.

Hill to Play Olson for Title

Kenneth Hill defeated Fritz Johnson 6 and 5 in a very interesting match. Hill, as well as Olson, played consistent golf and finished with 73. This match was the semi-finals of the club championship. Next Sunday Hill plays Olson for the title. This match will prove interesting as Olson is present club champion and (Continued on page 7)

HENRY K. COALE IN NEW BUSINESS VENTURE

Without question one of the vital factors in the welfare of the public is the one of pure drinking water. We now have an enterprise operating to supply the public which originated in the fact that there is an abundant local supply of the purest of water now available.

We are informed that during the past months Mr. H. K. Coale has been assembling a plant on his property on Ridge road for this purpose. He has submitted the water he got from his own well to state and local health authorities for analysis and it was found so excellent that Mr. Coale felt the public would appreciate a chance to secure it.

The new enterprise is to be known as the Henry K. Coale Highland Park Crystal Mineral Water Co., with offices at 18 South First street, and is now engaged in bottling and distributing this water.

Local Children In Afternoon Program Thursday at Ravinia

Ravinia and Highland Park supplied the talent for the special program at Ravinia Park last Thursday afternoon, the customary children's afternoon. After a delightful concert for the children by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Eric DeLamar conducting, a Pantomime of Cinderella was presented. The beautiful French version of Massenet was adapted to pantomime, danced by the pupils of Mildred Haessler. Most of the 35 girls in the charming feature belong to Highland Park and Ravinia families and the rest are daughters of summer residents of this community.

Critics who had also seen the previous performance of Cinderella, given this spring in the Ravinia village house by the Mildred Haessler pupils, were practically unanimous in their conviction that the rare and delicate beauty then achieved had been surpassed in the wonderful appropriate setting of the Ravinia Park auditorium, the opera house in the woods.

A capacity house of children and a sprinkling of elders sat absorbed as the ancient fairy tale unrolled without a word before them, accentuated by grace of movement and artistic blending of costumes.

The girls taking part included Ellen Greig, Harriet and Syrilla Golden, Katherine Buhner, Hildegard and Abigail Balke, Dorothy, Mildred and Alice Simpson, Ruth and Etta Pardee, Mary Louise Liebenstein, Sylvia, Marjory and Bernice Kurtzon, Dorothy Best, Virginia Wilson, Dorothy and Virginia Leisenring, Judith and Suzanne Greenberg, Dorothy Young, Zara Olds, Ruth Gordon, Janet Carr, Eleanor Koptik, Joan Goodman, Janet Lewis, Diane Ewell, Catherine Weinberg and Carroll Bennett.

Mrs. H. S. Pardee was at the piano and Mrs. Thomas Wilder played the violin. The costumes were designed by Mrs. James Cady Ewell. Mildred Haessler directed. A number of the dances were based on arrangements by Adolph Bolm and some others by L. Chalfi.

The young dancers have been asked by those in charge of the Ravinia Park children's afternoon programs to appear again next summer. (Contributed.)

CHILD IS VICTIM IN AUTO ACCIDENT

LITTLE GIRL IS KILLED

Dorothy Davidson, Aged 6, Hit by Car as She Runs from Behind Ice Truck; Exonerate Driver

Dorothy Waters Davidson, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Davidson, 121 North Linden avenue, died Monday morning in the Highland Park hospital from the effects of injuries received about 45 minutes previously when she was struck by an automobile, driven by Rudolph Roslund of Highwood.

Roslund was held until the inquest, which was held Monday evening at the H. M. Prior company's office, by Deputy Coroner Penny of Libertyville, and the verdict was that death was accidental and absolved Roslund of blame in the premises.

Story of Accident

According to the police report and the testimony at the inquest, the little girl was playing in front of her home and had crossed the street to get a small piece of ice from the wagon. On her return to the other side of the street she failed to notice the approaching car, and because of the intervening wagon the driver could not see her until she was practically in front of his car.

One witness was examined before the coroner's jury, the driver of the ice truck—the Sijestrom ice delivery. His name is John Shelk and he stated to the jury that he had warned the children not to cross the street shortly before the accident. This little girl, he said, ran across and seized a piece of ice and started back, running almost directly in front of Roslund's car. The latter was stopped within a car length, he stated, and it was believed that it was moving perhaps 15 miles an hour. The child received a severe cut on the head and bruised about the body where the car ran over her. (Continued on page 10)

GOOD FEATURES AT THE LOCAL THEATRE

Recent Performances Convince Patrons That Entertainment Is Finest

Recent performances at the Alcyon and Pearl Theatres justify the general comment that Highland Park is getting the finest theatre entertainment on the North Shore. Last Sunday at the Pearl an exceptionally good vaudeville show and a very good picture drew capacity in spite of the inclement weather.

A visit to the Alcyon Monday night found a big crowd waiting in line as late as 10 o'clock which was undoubtedly due to a double feature program which included a very funny picture called "Rookies" and dealing with amusing incidents at a C. M. T. C. There was an atmospheric stage presentation, with army tents and equipment and American Legion decorations. A singer in uniform rendered several good songs. Entertainers and presentations and stage diversions of a high calibre are now a part of every performance at the Alcyon.

With both theatres presenting performances much better than formerly, the people of Highland Park who have been seeking some of their entertainment elsewhere will probably settle down to excellent offerings in their own home town. The Alcyon Theatre is now showing their feature pictures commencing with a Sunday run thus insuring the Sunday theatre goes the best product, which is a good idea.

MOOSE WILL HOLD BIG CELEBRATION SEPT. 5

If you haven't already made other plans for Labor Day, or if you have made plans, you had better change them and stay in Highland Park to attend the big celebration which is being planned by the Highland Park Lodge No. 446, L. O. O. M. The affair will be held in Sunset park and the attractions include a baseball game, games, races and dancing.

Hal Reeder and his Iowans will furnish music in the evening for the dancing. As one of the big features of the day, an automobile will be given away. Don't forget Monday, Sept. 5.

FIREMEN HAVE RUN TO DEERFIELD BLAZE

The fire department was called to Deerfield early Wednesday morning to help extinguish a blaze in an old ice house in that village. The Deerfield department had the fire under control when the local firemen arrived, and the latter helped them complete the job. The damage was not great.
