500 ATTEND CARNIVAL IN RAVINIA SATURDAY

Miss Charlotte Robertson and Mr. Carl Haessler Awarded
First Prizes

Five hundred people attended the Carnival and Street dance at Ravinia, Saturday evening, Aug. 27. This has been an annual affair since 1919, and is always held on the last Saturday in August. Each year larger numbers have attended and entered into the carnival spirit and have attired themselves in costume, to represent various characters. This year, Miss Charlotte Robertson, dressed as a lady of the medieval period, won first prize, as having the most beautiful costume.

Mr. Carl Haessler, dressed as a beggar monk, won first prize, as having the most original and unique costume.

Of the children's costumes, Master Edward Brizzolara, of the boys, won first prize, and Ellen Horn and Mary Louise Keaster, of the little girls, shared the first prize, as they dressed as a couple.

The success of the children's part of the carnival was due to the efficient effort of Mr. Copp, playground director at Ravinia and Sunset park. He had planned various games for which prizes were given.

SOCCER GAME WILL BE PLAYED MONDAY

Riviera A. C. vs. Ravenswood United to Meet on Highwood Field

One of the best sport events is promised by the Riviera A. C. on Labor Day. The Ravenswood United
A. C. of Chicago, first division champion of 1925-26, and among the leaders this year, will face the local kickers at the Highwood field at 3 p. m.

They are close to the league championship in which the Riviera A. C. team is a runner up of the third division, and the Labor Day game will probably be the last exhibition game, but it promises to be the best of the season.

LOCAL THEATRES ARE CLOSED; FANS MOURN

The Highland Park theatres, the Alyon and the Pearl, are closed on account of the difficulty between movie operators and theatre owners in Chicago which began early this week and has not yet been settled, despite strenuous efforts to reach an agreement. Local movie fans are at a loss to spend their evenings in a satisfying manner. The loss to the theatres is considerable.

An Old Man's Trouble

SEVERAL YEARS AGO we knew an old man who worked in a coal yard.
One morning he was seen with a pick and shovel, eagerly digging in a corner of the coal yard. He would not tell his friends what he was doing —but he was greatly excited. They feared he had lost his mind.

Finally, when he was exhausted, he told his friends that his life-time savings were stolen. He had buried $3,000 in Gold and now he could not find the money.

Several others joined in the hunt and finally found the gold. If that money had been deposited in the bank drawing compound interest all these years, it would have grown to nearly $5,500 now.

Compound interest with safety pays.

An Expression of Appreciation

We wish to express our appreciation of the manner in which our patrons took advantage of the fur exhibition, which we held last week. These furs were from America's great Northwest and were fashioned in the season's prevailing styles by expert craftsmen. It is at all times our desire to bring the best of the year's offerings to the ladies of the community, and it is indeed gratifying to us when they take advantage of our efforts to serve them.

CAMP MEETING ENDS IN BARRINGTON AUG. 29

The fifty-fourth annual encampment at Barrington came to a close Monday morning, Aug. 29. In many ways it was one of the best ever held.
A strong program had been planned and was carried through. Bishop S.
C. Breyfogel, D.D. of Reading, Pa., Senior Bishop in the church spoke twice each day the first Saturday and Sunday of the camp. Rev. J. G.
Schwab, a former pastor of the Ebenezer church in Highland Park was the camp evangelist, and lead in the morning Bible study from Tuesday night to the close of the camp. Dr.
G. B. Kimmel, president of the Evangelical Theological seminary at Naperville, Ill., spoke at the closing Sunday morning service.

Increased offerings and pledges seem to guarantee a still stronger program for next year, with more attention given to the needs and interests of the young folk. A goodly number of Highland Park folk were in attendance during parts or all of the camp.
