GREAT MEN ARE BUILDERS

The truly great men of all time are the builders, those who produce or help to produce. The parasite, who does nothing for himself or fellow man is a cheat and the one who interferes with progress is little better. "Build and let build" should be our motto and the future will comfortably arrange itself. There are many things to be considered in the building up of a community. Ten men can do more than one and when these 10 men are arranged in team formation, their work can not only count much more than 10 times but, in fact, 20 times as much.

WHY A Y. W. C. A. IN HIGHLAND PARK?

Sometimes the question is asked, "Why a Y. W. C. A. in Highland Park?" The answer is as manifold as the varied and splendid work the Y. W. C. A. is doing for the women and girls of the community. In its several departments the Y. W. affords the young women of the community privileges and opportunities which would be otherwise lacking. It points the way and guides and helps; it stirs ambition and assists them to realize it; it provides the background and the foundation upon which are built happy, useful lives. It is the greatest influence in the community for the upbuilding of the best type of young womanhood.

In the Y. W. there is something of value for every young woman. Its Bible and English classes and other courses of instruction; its world fellowship programs; its parties; its mothers and daughters banquets; its clubs and groups, each of which is doing fine work—the Mothers club, the Girl Reserves, the clubs for grade and high school girls,—all are of marked assistance in their respective spheres, and the combined work of the entire organization is a noble effort for the benefit of all women and girls.

The new Y. W. building on Laurel avenue was used by 19,500 persons in 1927. That in itself is evidence of the popularity of the institution and the good work it is doing. The building is convenient, well equipped and the management in all departments is excellent. Here a great work is being done day by day throughout the year for the welfare of the young women of the community, and when you give toward its support you are giving toward one of the most worthy causes. The annual campaign for funds for the Y. W. is now in progress. It is time to give again for the Y. W.; it is always timely to give for the Y. W.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL NEWS

A very beautiful wedding took place on Saturday evening at 8:30 when Miss Frances Faith Hoffman, daughter of Mrs. J. R. Hoffman of Judson avenue was married to James Ross Baird of Canton, Ill., son of Mr. Byron Baird of Williamsfield, Ill. The ceremony took place in the presence of nearly one hundred guests in the living room of the Hoffman home at an improvised altar made of beautiful palms, ferns and huge baskets of all fall flowers in their beautiful fall shades. At either end of the altar stood two very gorgeous brass candelabras which were antiques of rare quality and came from an old church in Mexico. They were sent to the Hoffmans by a friend at the Russian Tea room in Chicago for the occasion. The bride was adorable in a gown of ivory muscovite trimmed with rose point lace and veil of real lace arranged in cap effect and caught with orange blossoms. The gown represented four generations, the jewels having belonged to the great grandmother and worn at probably twenty weddings in the family. Her shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley was most effective. Miss Patricia Hoffman, a sister of the bride acted as bridesmaid and was very pretty in a dress of changeable rose taffeta trimmed with lace and French blue ribbon, she carried a bridesmaid bouquet of various flowers. While little Phoebe Virginia McClean, a niece, acted as flower girl and wore a darling little peach colored frock trimmed with lace and carried a basket of rose petals. Richard Smith of Springfield, Ill., acted as best man, while Rev. Christoph Keller of Trinity Episcopal church officiated. During the service Miss Thurston played beautifully on the harp while John Dragomier sang several vocal selections. The house was most artistically decorated in ivy vines and fall flowers by Dreiske. What Does Your Foot Do?

YOUR foot must provide support, must bear the weight of your body, must stand up under the 18,908 steps that the average man takes each day.

Now in supporting the body the foot bears the weight at three contact points—the heel, the "ball" and the outer side of the arch.

The ordinary shoe gives support at only two of these points—the heel and the "ball" for the shank of the ordinary shoe soon sags down and the arch is left unsupported.

Therefore the principle of the Arch Preserver Shoe is correct, for the concealed, built-in arch bridge supports at this contact point of the arch where support is needed and there can be no strain. And this arch bridge is exclusive, too—the patent on it having been upheld in the highest courts.

The Arch Preserver Shoe is different. It has other exclusive features.

Try a pair and you will immediately see the difference.
