NEED MORE MONEY FOR C. M. T. C. NEXT YEAR

Only About Half of Number Applying Could Be Taken Care of This Year

"In the sixth corps area, including Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin, a total of 4700 young men received training at a citizens' military training camp during the summer. This is an excellent record. But more worthy of note is the statement of Col. Noble B. Judah, civilian aide to the secretary of war for this section, that this total of 4700 represented only about half the number of young men demanding admission.

"This corps area could easily fill places for 10,000 men at the summer camps if these were provided by the government," Col. Judah declared. "The camps are a popular institution. They provide training in citizenship with the emphasis on that responsibility of citizenship which is to be prepared for the national defense in case of war. Each summer sees a greater number of young men demanding admission.

"Congress should heed this demand and foster the popularity of the camps. The appropriation for the citizens' military training camps made by the Sixty-ninth congress was $2,801,240. The budget for next year will provide only $2,543,830 for 1928. To cut down the appropriation, as it invariably returned with their man.

In some cases where men were working in the fields, the charter application was taken to him and their signature obtained. Completing the conquest of Wauconda, Lake Zurich was descended upon but owing to approaching darkness, but six signatures were obtained there. However, twenty-five signatures in all were obtained and application for charter completed.

It is expected that a preliminary meeting of Wauconda post, to work out organization plans in detail will be held early next week and that installation of officers will be made on Armistice night, November 11. It is also expected that at an early meeting of the Lake County council, Wauconda will be selected as a meeting place and another big round-up held.

Mr. Eli L. Ott was born in Henry county, Yorktown, Ill., January 30, 1860, and passed to his eternal reward at his home in Wilmette, Ill., Wednesday evening, Oct. 5, 1927, at the age of 67 years, 8 months and 5 days.

Only One Man Smiled

While fishing one day a man saw two men looking up and down the water's edge. He wanted to know what was the matter — what had been lost.

One man smiled and said: "Oh! I've lost my check book but it doesn't matter for I can get another at the bank."

But his partner did not smile. He had lost his pocket book containing considerable money. It was a serious matter with him. He spent many hours hunting before he gave it up as hopeless.

If the checking system had no other advantage than safety, you could well afford to quit. But it has many other advantages. It is business-like and easy.
