Every Fashionable style that will be worn by the ultra-smart circles is here. Because of our unusual buying power, we are able to offer one of the finest selections of ladies' ready-to-wear in or around Chicago. Both Mr. Barnett and Mrs. Julia Coughlin, who is in charge of our Highland Park Store, have recently returned from buying trips to New York, where they purchased the most seasonable dresses, fur coats, and coats in such large quantities, that we are enabled to sell them at prices absurdly low. Neither our styles, quality nor prices can be bettered in the large loop department stores.

It is our sincere hope that every woman in the community will consider Barnett's always at her service. Whether she is ready to do her shopping at the time, makes no difference—we stand always ready to show her the latest creations from Paris and New York—and to discuss her own particular requirements.
