P.T.A. MEETING FRIDAY

Last Friday afternoon the pupils of the Deerfield school, under the direction of Miss Frances Hill gave two Christmas pageants, preceding the business meeting of the Deerfield School Parent-Teacher association. The Deerfield orchestra played two selections, then the pupils of the primary section gave a little play in which Jack Frost (a fair-haired little boy with a remarkably clear true singing voice played the part) Santa Claus, the Spirit of Christmas, brownies and fairies took part in Tommy Murphy's Christmas.

In the second play the following children took part: Shepherds—Eugene Hanner, Frank May, Robert Huter; Travelers—Dorothy Myers, Virginia Farmer, Alice Eads, Arline Fehr, Jane Warner, Mary Jane Galoway; Talker—Joseph Andrew; Traveler talker—Donald Clark; Chorus—Doris Kreh, Doris Hunter, Grace Varner, Shirley Clark, Catherine Cunningham, Ida Sticken, Edwin Wood, Neil Browne, Elsie Samuelson, Jean Pettis, Virginia Reeb.

The Parent-Teacher association voted to interview the school board in reference to hiring a school nurse, for which the Deerfield School P. T. A., in conjunction with the Wilmot School P. T. A., will finance.

CHRISTMAS INFORMAL AT DEERFIELD-SHIELDS

As the Christmas holidays will begin Wednesday, Dec. 21, making Tuesday the last day of school, the annual Christmas informal at Deerfield-Shields will be held Tuesday after school. This is contrary to the day on which the party has usually been held, which was always Friday.

The committee for the Christmas party is made of the social chairmen of each class, each one at the head of a separate division. Dorothy Davidson, as senior chairman, will take care of the decorations, while Gertrude Williams, junior chairman, will have the finances under her care. Mae Bliss, sophomore chairman, will have charge of the entertainment, and Elizabeth Rankin, from the freshman class, is at the head of the refreshment committee.

VERSATILE PAUL REVERE

Many children grow up in the idea that Paul Revere was a mythical creature of a poet's imagining. He was a very practical man, a jack-of-all-trades, an artist, an engraver, a cooper, a smith, an ironmonger, a grand master of a Masonic lodge and a dentist.—Woman's Home Companion.

YES, BUT DO THEY?

"It must be tough to be a silver-smith and go to heaven and think you're gonna get a good, long rest," chuckled old Ben Whittier, "and then be set to work right away puttin' silver linings in the clouds.—Farm & Fireside.
