prominent woman now seized with the idea of holding or recreating her worth thru the written word, is familiar to us. But I am quite certain that Mrs. Andrews' purpose was not that. In the first place, tho she is descended from many old and illustrious families, her story is quite in keeping with the humility of her title, "Memoirs of a Poor Relation." And more than that, she proves by the frankness and sincerity of her style that she is trying to help solve some of the problems which have beset her path so that they may be less The first thing to strike one is the difficult for those who will have to poetically beautiful and original style. meet them after her. "Twas a Great Party!!

Now that we're all IN IT, it isn't such a bad year at that! Is it? So far as we can see from here, it seems just about like the tail end of 1927. Yes?

So now I'm going to get snooty right away and bring in some remarks about my business. In looking over the OTHER business men who are advertising in this issue it seems that BUSI-NESS is to be the popular sport so after all there's no reason for an apology at all. Here's what I had in mind:

I want you folks to help ME make THIS store a happier and better and BIGGER place to do your trading in. I want you to feel that the splendid trade you made possible for me around the holidays is NOT just at Flash in the Pan. Not the result of Christmas hysteria but was a really friendly gesture which you're going to make PLENTY of times during this year.

. It sure was a great party all last month! It kept me outta bed a heap but I guess I wasn't any more sleepless than YOU folks. But between us we put it over all right and I believe it was just about the biggest Christmas this here store ever had! For this I want to thank you-ALL OF YOU!

MELVIN D. SWEETLAND.

Shorty Says:

Why a sane man (mebbe!) would actually INVITE a "repeat" on the excitement we've been having around Christmas and New Years is way over MY bean! Any OTH-ER bird who had just returned from the wars would be content to lie DOWN awhile and let matters rest a bit! Wouldn't YOU think thatta way? Personally I'm getting my 1927 clothes all cleaned up for a lotta new Laws I understand are going to be put in operation. I'm men-tioning no names, but it looks to be a mity BIG YEAR!

We Bow DEEPLY TO OURSELVES!

Once in a while a fellow has a right to pat his own back -don't you think so? Not too often but just occasionally! Now that the open season for dangerous ills is upon us and doctors are busier than at any OTHER time of the year, our PRE-SCRIPTION COUNTER and the confidence you folks have shown in it, gives us a great big fine glow of satisfaction!
