ORPHANAGE BENEFIT CONCERT FEATURES

H. S. AUDITORIUM FEB. 8TH

Sponsored by Lake Forest Kiwanis Club; Swift & Co. Male Chorus and Noted Opera Star to Sing

For the benefit of the Lake Bluff Orphanage building fund a notable musical entertainment will be presented on the evening of Wednesday, Feb. 8 in the Deerfield-Shields high school auditorium, sponsored by the Lake Forest Kiwanis club.

The concert, which will begin at 8:15 o'clock, promises to be one of the finest ever heard on the north shore. The entertainers will be the famous Swift & Co. Male chorus of seventy voices, with D. A. Clippinger, director, and Mario Kurenko, noted Russian coloratura soprano as soloist.

Famous Singing Organization
The Swift & Co. Male chorus is said to be one of the finest singing groups in the country. Those who have heard them are loud in praise of their splendid performance, and wherever they have sung throughout the country they have been received with greatest appreciation and urgent requests for return dates.

Their reputation is nationwide, and it is probable that never before on the north shore has so large a singing organization of this type been heard in a concert program of the character planned for this notable concert. In the appearance of this chorus at Deerfield-Shields high school auditorium on the evening of Wednesday, Feb. 8, the Lake Forest Kiwanis club has secured a notable attraction for the benefit concert for the building fund of the Lake Bluff orphanage, and lovers of mass singing are assured a splendid treat.

Noted Opera Star

But the Kiwanis club has done more. In addition to securing this famous chorus, it has been able to obtain as soloist one of the most popular and noted opera stars in the country for the same concert in the person of Maria Kurenko, famous Russian coloratura soprano, whose delightful voice and marvelous technique have charmed audiences all over the United States, both on the operatic stage and in concert work. She has appeared on several occasions in the Atwater Kent radio programs on Sunday evenings and it is no exaggeration to say that she has millions of friends throughout the country who have been won by her golden voice. Her appearance in this concert is regarded as a distinct achievement for the Kiwanis club and should add greatly to the attractiveness of the program, which promises to be one of the finest ever heard in this section, including as it does such entertainers as the great Swift & Co. Male chorus and the famous Russian coloratura soprano appearing together in this benefit concert for the Lake Bluff orphanage.

For Orphanage Buildings

The net proceeds of this concert will go into the building fund of the orphanage, which is planning extensive building program for the purpose of providing modern, fireproof buildings for the orphanage group. The cause is a worthy one, and the program so noteworthy that a capacity house seems assured.

It is hoped to raise about $5,000 by this concert and officials of the club are sparing no effort to make the project a great success. In this they are being greatly aided by the generous and interested co-operation of a number of north shore society women who are assisting in the disposal of boxes and blocks of tickets, and with notable success, it is reported. The following are listed as matrons and patrons of the concert:

Matrons and Patrons
Matrons—Mrs. C. M. Trowbridge, Mrs. George Roberts, Mrs. Mark Morton, Mrs. Carter Fitzhugh, Mrs. E. A. Russell, Mrs. Charles S. Frost, Mrs. A. D. Jackman.

Park Board Elects Improvement Body; Winter Activities

At a meeting of the Highland Park East Park District board on Tuesday evening, a new board of local improvements was elected consisting of Everett L. Millard, president; Fred Silber, Clarence H. Witt, with Edward M. Laing, secretary.

Mr. Samuel Holmes who has long been attorney for the board found it impossible, owing to his large business interests elsewhere to devote time to the park board matters, and therefore tendered his resignation, which was accepted by the board with regret.

Mr. George I. Hicks of Glenecoe was engaged as counsel for the board to supervise and prosecute the proceedings for the condemnation of property for park purposes at Ravinia. Mr. Hicks was village attorney at Glenecoe for 14 years and it believed well qualified to handle the proceedings which the board finds it necessary to institute under the special assessment laws.

Park activities during the winter have been numerous, Secretary Laing reports. The cold weather which blew in last week revived interest in the skating pond in Sunset Park and 400 visitors were registered there while the skating lasted. Return of the cold snap this week has made it possible to reopen the rink.

At the Ravinia skating pond interesting events are reported. Last Sunday morning the Ravinia hockey team defeated the Oak Park Canadians, 3 to 1, in a fast game that attracted a large crowd and much interest. The Ravinia players were: Vail, goal; Stipe, right defense; Carr left defense; C. Vail, right wing; Cole, left wing; Hammond, center. Oak Park's team included in corresponding positions the following: Pollock, McKee, Brown, Ross, Hutcheson, Copp.

On Monday, Jan. 23, the Ravinia school teachers entertained the teachers from the Lincoln, Elm Place, and Ridge schools at a skating party on the Ravinia rink. Refreshments were served.

On Saturday, Jan. 28, the Woman's Civic club of Ravinia will have their annual ice carnival, it is announced.

FEATURE ATTRACTIONS AT ALCYON THEATER

The Alcyon theater scored big last Saturday with the introduction of Tommy Sacco and his Wurlitzer Music Hawks and company of 18. They are back again this Saturday with new music, songs, dances, scenery, costumes, and the five dancing dolls. Friday of this week brings a revival of Emmerson Hough's "The Covered Wagon." Emmerson Hough lived in Highland Park for some time, and much eagerness will undoubtedly be manifested in this re-showing of one of the greatest pictures the screen has ever known. Every red-blooded American citizen can afford to see "The Covered Wagon" many times over. Highland Park school children are being advised to attend this performance.

"Stage Kisses" is the evening picture at the Alcyon Saturday. Dynamite, the wonder dog, holds the screen for the children at the matinee. Stage Kisses follows Dynamite for the adults at the matinee.

"In Old Kentucky," with a thrilling horse race and stage specialties is the Sunday offering.

The Alcyon has been hampered considerably during the past few months by the output of a season of "fair" pictures only and otherwise handicapped. The present season opens with a deluge of screen treats and the entire output of all the leading producers now contracted. Coming attractions already secured for the Alcyon and Pearl are Clara Bow in "Get Your Man," "Ben Hur," "Her Wild Oats," "The Gorilla," "Love," "The Gaucho," Charles Chaplin in "The Circus," "Love Mart," "Patent Leather Kid," "Private Life of Helen of Troy," "Shepherd of the Hills," "The Last Command," Mary Pickford in "My Best Girl," "Les Miserables," "Surrender," "Wizard," "Student Prince," "My Enemy" and others.

Commencing Sunday, Feb. 25, the Alcyon inaugurates a policy of the big pictures only, starting off with "Ben Hur." All big specials will open on a Sunday hereafter, thus meeting the requests and demands of the majority of Highland Park patrons who find Sunday their best opportunity for high class entertainment.

Smith, principal of the Elm Place school, directed a pageant "Lighting the Yule Log" at the January dinner in the Kenilworth Village house, Saturday evening, of the Friends of Our Native Landscape, an organization composed of Chicago and North Shore people interested in preserving and fostering beauty spots in America.

After the audience of one hundred had placed their faggots in the fireplace, old English songs were sung, for which Wallace Reichelt played the piano accompaniment, and after dinner there was appropriate community singing.

Articles were read from several Chicago papers, by different members, in relation to the sacrifice of beautiful large elm and maple trees in Harms Woods, under the direction of chief forester of Cook county, in the Forest Preserve for the construction of a golf course. "Why a Forest Preserve" was the query, if one hundred year old trees are to be destroyed for the golf playing few.
