past middle age, would like salaried job in North Shore vicinity: energetic, mentally alert, good health, reliable. Address W. F. Press office. Petitions last week were placed in circulation for States Attorney A. V. states attorney.

At the same time it was heard that L. J. Wilmot, circuit clerk; L. O. Brockway, recorder, and Coroner John L. Taylor would have their petitions out within a short time. general work or second work; 35 years of age; references furnished. Tel. Waukegan

These men are all acting under the old primary law which fixes the date of filing as February 14 with the last day 17 days later. The primary would be April 10 under this law.

While this law is tied up by an injunction proceedings through which Judge Harry Fischer, Chicago, found it invalid, it is possible that the supre court will declare it constitutional. Mentioned for Atty. General

Col. Smith has been talked of as a candidate for attorney general. The Chicago press had looked with kindness on his ambitions and he had a loyal following throughout the state that might have made a foundation for a victorious organization.

There were two reasons that caused him to withdraw from any state race and seek the return of his present post. In the first place he has been urged by his friends to remain in Lake county as an official.

Secondly he did not feel that he could carry his campaign to 2,000,000 voters without spending more than sound business judgment would call Russell to Run

Charles Russell, of Lake Forest, county surveyor, is another who will have to submit to a vote again.

Swift Up Again Senator Rodney B. Swift of Libertyville also will be up for election and the selection of a successor to the late representative, William F. Weiss, also will have to be taken up.

There have been no rumors of opposition to Col. Smith, Brockway, Wilmot or Russell. Edward Conrad, Waukegan broker who served years as deputy coroner, is in the field against Taylor. Dick Lyons, Mundelein; Mayor Pratt, McHenry; Lee McDonough, Waukegan: James G. Welch, Waukegan, and George Bairstow, Waukegan,
