OPENS MONDAY FOR LIMITED ENGAGEMENT

Katharine Cornell Stars in "The Letter" at Olympic Theater

W. Somerset Maugham, whose short story provided the meat for "Rain," has again looked toward the East for the atmosphere for his "The Letter," in which Katharine Cornell is being starred, and which opened to the Olympic Theater for a limited engagement, beginning Monday, March 12.

Mr. Maugham is also the author of "The Constant Wife," Eitel Barrymore's great success, now current at the Harris Theater. "The Letter" scene is laid in the home on a plantation in the Malay Peninsula and at Singapore. It is a London success and the colorful Katharine Cornell achieved six months of success in it at the Morosco Theater in New York. In "The Letter" it is said Miss Cornell reaches the unexpected heights of emotional playing, and her acting in this new play is the finest of her gleaming career.

The English dramatist has written skillfully a play that is intensely melodramatic and ever interesting, and which Miss Cornell's superb work raises to a realm of compelling tragedy.

In "The Letter" Chicago audiences may expect one of the most brilliant and expert performances of recent years by an actress who is fast becoming America's foremost. Miss Cornell has been brilliantly surrounded by a cast of English notables, many of whom appeared in the leading roles in the London production.

COBWEBS ARE BARRED BY STATE FOOD INSPECTORS

Cobwebs festooned from the ceiling may be potent flytraps, but the food inspection forces of the state of Illinois do not approve of them in restaurants. In January, 145 "notices to correct" were issued as the result of about 6,000 sanitary inspections.

The January records show that 312 food samples analyzed were pronounced illegal, and that 57,066 pounds of food, unfit for human consumption, and a menace to public health, were confiscated and destroyed.
