Ensembles

So many of the smart ensembles combine a plain color with the now so smart prints that selection is almost bewildering.

Printed Frocks

The color combinations are delightful, the designs interesting, but the most important factor is the styling. Correctness of line is imperative in prints.

Lace Gowns

The new popularity of lace in combination with chiffons completely satisfies the new more feminine trend in fashions. Their soft, rippling lines are flattering indeed.

CORONER LAKE COUNTY

April 10

Able - Energetic - Efficient

The office of County Coroner is one which demands the full and undivided attention of the holder of that office. It is not essential that your coroner be a physician. In fact, the statutes of Illinois make no mention of such a requirement.

In such inquests as require a knowledge of medical practice, competent physicians appointed by the coroner can be promptly summoned. Many physicians in Lake County are willing to perform autopsies without cost to the taxpayers, charging their services to the estate of the deceased.

More important than a knowledge of medicine and its practice is prompt response to requests for the services of the coroner's office. A coroner who is a practicing physician is not always free to answer call immediately. Such would not be the case with a man in office devoting his full time to the job.

Voters of Lake County will make no mistake in supporting and electing Norton E. Flood for the office of coroner. Always a conscientious worker for the best interests of Lake County, he will bring to this important office the qualifications the job demands.

His Record

Norton E. Flood was born in Gurnee, Warren township, in 1898, the son of Harry E. Flood and Sarah Flood. His early years were spent on his father's farm near Gurnee where he grew to manhood. He was married in 1922 to Margaret Howard of Russell. In 1923 Mr. Flood moved to Waukegan and accepted a position with the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co. He won rapid promotion and was made district superintendent in 1925. Two years ago he entered the real estate business in which he has been successfully engaged to the present time.

His Platform

Mr. Flood, if elected, promises able and efficient administration of the office of County Coroner. He stands for the interests of the people in matters affecting public safety on streets and highways. He believes that the office of Coroner should be conducted in a fair and impartial manner and that verdicts should be returned promptly and without prejudice to any of the principals involved.
