The trees their leafy arms extend
To reach the sunshine which God sends.
The woods resound; the fields rejoice;
In praise, all nature lifts its voice.

SCOUT LEADER TELLS HOW TO DISPLAY FLAG

By Merit B. Scout
When the flag is displayed other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out.
When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union (that portion of the flag which contains the forty-eight white stars in a blue field) should be uppermost and to the flags own right; that is, to the observer's left.
When displayed in a window, it should be displayed the same way, that is work the union or blue field to the left of the Observer in the street.
When festoons, rosettes, or drappings of blue, white and red are desired, bunting should be used, but never the flag.
When displayed over the middle of the street, as between buildings, the flag should be suspended vertically, with the union to the north in an east and west street, or to the east in a north and south street.
Take curb flags down at sunset; they should not be left out at night.
Suggestions
1. No disrespect should be shown to the flag of the United States of America.
2. The flag should not be dipped to any person or any thing. The regimental color, state flag, organization or institution flag will render this honor.
3. The flag should not be displayed with the union down except as a signal of distress.
4. No flag or pennant should be placed above or to the right of the flag of the United States of America.
5. The flag should not touch the ground or the floor, or trail in the water.
6. No object or emblem of any kind should be placed on or above the flag of the United States of America.
7. The flag should not be used as drapery in any form whatever. Use bunting of blue, white and red.
8. The flag should not be fastened in such a manner that it will be easily torn.
9. The flag should not be draped over the roof, top, sides or back of a vehicle or of a railroad train or boat. When the flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff should be fixed firmly to the chassis, or clamped to the radiator cap.

Need New Quarters for Aged County Dependent; Old Building Condemned
On Tuesday, May 15, the citizens of Lake county are urged to vote for a bond issue which will insure the erection of a new building at Libertyville for the aged poor.
Two years ago when the supervisors had the subject up for consideration, at which time a number of prominent men and women of the county attended the meetings, and also took part in the discussions, at the request of some of the supervisors, the latter were not in perfect accord on the subject of a new building or the present site.
At this time the extreme necessity to taking care of the indigent aged has induced the supervisors to unanimously agree to put the project before the voters of the county.
To those who remember the pleas made at the time for sanitary, fire proof building, the information now at hand proves the imperative necessity of a new building, for two years the inmates have been allowed to continue under the old conditions.
The old building, erected about fifty years ago, has been added to, to accommodate fifty people, men and women, and is now condemned.
There is one bathroom in the structure, and there are at this time seventy-one people using it. Several facilities are entirely inadequate, and as fourteen people have to have their meals carried to them, they are unable to go down the two narrow flights of stairs to the basement dining room.
One woman who weighs over 200 pounds would have to be placed on a board slide should a fire break out in the building, for she could not be carried down the narrow stairway, and she is unable to leave the second floor, where her bedroom is.
A visit to the county farm, with its beautiful yard, must be one to the interior of the building also, to convince the voters of the necessity of a new building.
The tax on each property holder will be small, but the need of humane care for the aged is great.
Vote yes on the bond issue. The polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m., standard time, Tuesday, May 15, 1928.

ORDINANCES MUST BE PUBLISHED IS RULING
Unless an ordinance adopted by a city council is published in full, it cannot be enforced, Attorney General Oscar E. Carlstrom declared in response to a query from Dr. Isaac Rawlings, director of the state department of health.
Acting on authority granted by the legislature, Dr. Rawlings drew up an ordinance for the regulation of plumbing, which he proposed for action by city council. It consisted of forty-five pages of printed matter. The health director asked if part could be printed and the rest filed and proceed to enforce the ordinance.
"Because of the fact that the car was being used to evade payment of taxes due the federal government, innocent car owners, under the provisions of the old law, were unable to recover cars stolen from them for unlawful purposes" says a bulletin issued by the legal department of the Chicago Motor club.
