

SPEAKERS HERE TELL OF NEAR EAST RELIEF

Elks Lodge and Several Churches Hear About Work of This Organization

Congregations of several Highland Park churches and members of the local Elks club heard the past few days of the work being carried on by Near East Relief. Through the courtesy of Wayne Hise, exalted ruler, Edgar H. Rue was permitted to talk at the Elks club meeting Friday evening, and his portrayal of the work of this well known welfare organization drew much interest from the members present.

The Sunday speakers included Mr. Rue, a full time talk at the United Evangelical church. He also spoke briefly in the Zion Evangelical church and the Bethany Evangelical Sunday School. C. F. Jackman, regional director Near East Relief, was the speaker in the Presbyterian church. In all cases the talks were well received and several hundred dollars were donated to aid the cause of the orphans under the care of this American philanthropic organization. These contributions will be credited against Highland Park's quota in the coming campaign.

A community campaign which is expected to be the final one in Highland Park for Near East Relief will start early in June. Several local citizens have promised to serve on the committee which is not completely organized at this time. Speakers from Near East Relief will appear from time to time during the first part of the month.

Featherweight Wool Frocks

Much Charm

The sports frock reaches its very pinnacle in these enchanting tailored dresses, with their clever and subtle use of color, their exquisite tailoring and perfect materials!

Wool georgettes, fragile and diaphanous, but sturdy in the wearing. Wool creppelles, somewhat heavier, but still as light and cool as most silks! And washable jerseys, with a silvery interweaving of rayon.

Five models are pictured here. There are many more. These dresses are bought only one of a model—a point that will be considered by the woman who wants exclusiveness in her clothes.

Tan crepelle — insets of two shades of tan. $25. Left.

Green washable jersey with a silver-buckled belt. Right.

Wool georgette — putty, with inserts of coral and black, $39.50.

Apple green crepe cardigan dress, $35.

Pale rose wool crepelle, with deep rose and maroon triangles, $39.50.
