AIR COOLING PLANTS SUMMER ESSENTIAL

"Sunny Days" Now Playing to Capacity Houses Due to Installation

The experiences gained this summer with the new air cooling system at the Four Cohans Grand Opera House in Chicago, where the popular musical comedy, "Sunny Days," is now playing its tenth week, have convinced theatrical managers that more than ever it is going to be necessary to feature air cooling plants if they are to operate their houses with the same degree of success that they achieve throughout the winter season.

In most cities the theatrical season comes to an end with the approach of the very hot weather and while cities like New York and Chicago attempt to operate fifty two weeks a year they do so only on a greatly reduced operating basis. The hot spell in Chicago the last few days affected most of the legitimate theatres, although the Four Cohans, where "Sunny Days" is playing, maintained its heavy patronage by featuring its air cooling system. The management on the hottest day purposely fixed the temperature at 68 degrees, somewhat below the desirable normal and this trick sent his audience out commenting upon the fact that it actually was cold in the theatre.

This feature no doubt will keep "Sunny Days" alive in the Loop long after the departure of many other popular hits, which is the most impressive evidence of the necessity for artificially cooled auditoriums. Up to date "Sunny Days" has proved to be one of the outstanding hits of Chicago, being a breezy musical comedy based upon the uproariously funny French farce, "The Kiss in a Taxi," and featuring five stars, including Billy B. Van, Jeanette MacDonald, Carl Randall, Douglas Leavitt and Jack Sheehan.

The usual story hour will be held in the Deerfield Public Library from three until four o'clock on Saturday afternoon with Miss Irene Rockenback in charge.

FIVE MEN ARE HELD FOR MURDER OF BECK

CLARK CAUGHT IN SOUTH

Brought Back from Louisville; Brown, Bressette, Martin and Boone Previously Arrested

All five men who are alleged to have participated in the murder of William Beck, Jr., 35, a farmer who lived near Milburn, last May, are now under arrest on charges of murder.

The last two fugitives were captured in Chicago late last week. Two of the alleged murderers were arrested in Chicago the day following the killing and a third arrest was made last week in Louisville, Ky.

The men arrested are both colored. They gave their names as George Boone and Harold Martin. Clever detective work on the part of Constable George Stridd, chief investigator for the office of State's Attorney A. V. Smith, led to the arrest of the last two negroes.

Rewards Aid Search

Col. Smith says that the posting of rewards of $350 each for the capture of Boone and Martin resulted in the obtaining of information concerning the whereabouts of one of the men. The sum of $700 will be divided between a Chicago colored man, whose name was not divulged because it is feared that he will be killed if known, and the Maxwell street police, who aided Constable Stridd tremendously.

State's attorney Smith sent Constable Stridd to Chicago with a letter to the colored man, assuring him that all information would be treated confidentially. Stridd was told by this man that Harold Martin had told a friend of his that he had driven Clifford Bressette, an Indian, and two colored men, John Brown and Claude Clark, to a place near Waukegan where they had robbed a place and killed a man Brown and Bressette were arrested soon after the murder.

Take Clark to Louisville

Claude Clark, alias Claude Carter, alias Claude Puchamp, colored, who is alleged to have fired the shot which caused the death of William Beck, 35, a farmer living near Milburn, in May, was captured in Louisville, Kentucky, and brought to Lake county jail.
