

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

On Saturday, August 4, at Sunset Park, Highland Park; Contest Picnic

The annual picnic of the Presbyterian church will be held Saturday, August 4, at Sunset Park, Highland Park, from 2 to 7 p.m.

This will be a contest picnic. Messrs. Stanger, Lemm, and Browning, committee on arrangements, will divide the entire church constituency into two sides, yellow and green, but individuals will not know to which side they belong until they register at the picnic grounds. It will be necessary to register before 4 p.m.

Instead of prizes for games ten points for winning any game will go to the total of the side to which the contestant belongs.

The picnic dinner committee asks that each family bring its own sandwiches and will solicit from each family either cake, fruit or a dish to pass. At the close of the festivities there will be a peanut scramble for all.

Committees for the day are: arrangement, Stanger, Lemm, and Browning; games, Mrs. Metcalf, Mrs. Haut, and Mrs. Browning; publicity, Mrs. Chester Wolf; picnic dinner, Mrs. J. B. Peters, James Hood Jr., and Donald Easton.

RECITAL MONDAY EVE DRAWS LARGE AUDIENCE

An innovation in village piano recitals which attract such large audiences was the presentation of historical song miniatures of great composers by Floy Little Bartlett, a north shore musician, as presented by Alice Eads, Dorothy Myers and Genevieve Steiner at the recital given by the pupils of Mrs. Charles G. Pettis in the Presbyterian church Monday evening.

An amusing dialogue "Come and Practice" was given by Dorothy Weesling, Jeane Burnett, June Nelson, Charlotte Fredericks, Alma Mae, Hanisee and Mary Cashmore.

Tiny Betty Hanisee was the baby star performer in piano number and musical recitation.

MR. GEO. ROCKENBACH IS BITTEN BY DOG

George Rockenbach, who is nearly 88 years of age, was bitten on the leg, arm and hand Monday in Highland Park by a little dog owned by Roy Haggi.

The viciousness of the attack was entirely unexpected, and was a terrible shock to Mr. Rockenbach, who was in the neighborhood and awaited the arrival of his own physician for treatment.

Deerfield News

Mrs. George Truitt, who is staying at the Library Plaza in Evanston, entertained at luncheon Thursday. Her guests from Deerfield were Mrs. D. M. Blasler, Mrs. Bert Nichol and Mrs. Reichelt Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Labahn had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. George Labahn of Evanston, Mr. and Mrs. John Nye, Mrs. L. Kasten, Viola and Margaret Kasten of Chicago.

Mrs. F. Horenberger and Mrs. F. Labahn were luncheon guests on Friday of Mrs. Labahn Sr. of Evanston.

Thursday afternoon, July 26, the cradle roll department of St. Paul's Evangelical church will enjoy a picnic on the lawn of the church. The mothers and grandmothers will also attend. Preceding the outdoor festivities there will be a short program in the church. Mrs. Worth will present a musical program. Mrs. Pfister wife of Rev. Jacob Pfister of Saint Paul's church of Chicago, will give an address.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Selig of Waterloo, Ia., and Miss Victoria Willman of Hawkeye, Ia., who have been visiting relatives in Deerfield for the past two weeks, returned to their homes Wednesday.

The Deerfield Post of the American Legion held its regular meeting, Wednesday evening, when final arrangements were made for the carnival to be held Saturday afternoon and evening, July 28.

The "History of Deerfield," compiled by Mrs. J. A. Reichelt Jr., is being published under the auspices of the Deerfield Post of the American Legion and will be distributed shortly.

CHARACTER FACTOR IN LAW PRACTICE

QUESTIONNAIRE INDICATES

Judges and Attorneys in Reply to One Sent out by Economic League Think It Essential

Character qualifications for the practice of law were favored almost unanimously, and establishment of state judicial councils to improve the law, recognition of business arbitration, increased authority for trial judges and acceptance of less than unanimous verdicts by juries were in the list of suggestions taken by the National Economic League among some 60 judges, lawyers, law professors and laymen.

Results of the questionnaire, presented in the current number of The Consensus, quarterly publication of the league, represent the first step in a study of the administration of justice in the United States, as the leaders whose opinions are represented form a committee of the league to consider the subject, according to Christian Science Monitor.

More than 80 per cent of the committee believe many violations of law, now called crimes and involving a criminal record but punishable only by fines, should be converted by statute into civil offenses involving liability to the state without criminal record.

Appointive System Favored

With regard to selection and tenure of judges, two-thirds of the committee were found in favor of an appointive as against an elective judiciary, a majority favoring life tenure with a definite age of retirement. Most of those who favor an elective judiciary believe election should be by a non-partisan, separate ballot.

Proposals for unification of the judicial systems in states and for specialist judges in the larger cities are overwhelmingly favored.

The proposal to give trial judges power, in both civil and criminal cases, to sum up the evidence orally, to present the case in brief and succinctly and upon the credibility of witnesses is also favored, by over 80 per cent of those voting.

For the improvement of the bar, two main questions are submitted. The first proposes that the entire bar of each state should have an official organization with compulsory membership, annual dues, and powers of self-discipline, subject to judicial review or appeal. On this question 33 members voted yes as against 22 opposed.
