LEGISLATION WHICH AFFECTS MOTORISTS PASSED BY LAST CONGRESS

Summary of Measures Which Became Law; Four Pending Before Committees in House

Five major pieces of legislation, of interest to the motorists of the country, involving $239,200,000 were passed by the 70th Congress, which adjourned last week, according to the legislative department of the American Motorists' association. Four bills, likewise of interest to the motorists, were left pending before various committees. The bill, involving $10,500,000 for the construction of the gaps in the Federal-aid highway program, failed by the President's veto after being passed by the Senate and House.

The five measures which passed were the $165,000,000 Federal-aid bill; the $66,000,000 automobile excise tax elimination bill; the $4,200,000 appropriation for the Mt. Vernon Memorial Highway; the $4,000,000 flood relief measure for reconstruction of Federal highways in the States of Vermont, Kentucky and New Hampshire and the Oddie amendment to the Federal Highway Act.

The amendment marks the first step that the Federal Government has taken in beautification of the Federal highway system. It authorizes the planting of trees along the Federal-aid route, and provides that the Federal government shall share with the states on an equal basis, the original cost of tree planting and maintenance.

Bills Pending The four measures which are now pending before various committees, and which will be considered further at the December session include the Browne-Watson bill, sponsored in the eleven mid-western states by the Automobile Club of Illinois, which authorizes a special highway building fund of $407,341,000 and which, it is estimated, will speed up five times highway construction in the United States.

The second is the Du Pont Rathbone bill which provides for the construction of a 500 foot highway across the United States, to be financed by the leasing of business sites, throughout its 3,000 mile length. Federal regulation of interstate motor bus traffic, recommended by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and endorsed by more than a score of national motorists and commercial organizations, but will be taken up by the committee, according to Congressman James S. Parker, author of the bill. The fourth measure, which did not reach a final vote, was a $1,000,000 appropriation for the widening of the National Defense Highway, linking the Nation's Capital with the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

In addition to the bills passed, three joint resolutions were adopted, the first authorizing a $15,000 appropriation to send American delegates to the Second Pan-American Congress on Highways at Rio de Janeiro; the ternational association of Road Contain delegates to the Permanent International association of Road Congresses, which will hold its sixth session in the United States in 1930 and the third authorizes the appointment of a commission to study the construction of a North-American Highway traversing North, South and Central Americas.
