THE HOME IN MIDSUMMER

A great many people start out with fresh enthusiasm to work on their gardens and lawns in the nice spring weather.

But when the hot months come on, their enthusiasm too often evaporates. It is sweaty work getting after those pestiferous weeds.

There is a great deal of pleasure in keeping a well tended place, with grass nicely clipped, flowers and shrubs kept free from weeds.

EVIL OF HIGH TAXES

President Coolidge's recent warning against governmental extravagance strikes ably at one of the most important problems we have to consider.

This mounting cost of local governments is a definite menace to our prosperity. A long period of good times has been to an extent responsible for our overlooking the consequences.

Unless steps are taken to remedy the matter the inevitable reaction must set in. Governmental extravagance and high taxes can result only in business depression.

CAMP HOLIDAY IS OPEN; FT. SHERIDAN

MORE THAN 2,000 ROOKIES

Citizen Soldiers From This Part of Country Gather For Annual Camp; Begin on Friday

At 5 o'clock in the morning of the opening day (Friday, July 27, 1928,) a small group of husky lads piled out of the early North Shore train from Chicago, and lugged their suitcases past the guard house and down the walk toward the C. M. T. C. registration tent near the Post theatre.

Hardly had they gone on their way until another and a larger group appeared, then another and another, as the trains came in, until before noon well over a thousand of the appointees had been taken in hand.

As each group appeared it was taken in charge by a soldier of the 2nd Inf. and guided to the lunch tent and then through the registration tent where the boys were assigned to companies and were paid their travel money.

Next, the boys were taken in small groups to the hospital area where they all got a good bath, a medical examination and a uniform.

At the close of camp, Ananias certainly was born too soon. Just think what a princely salary he could get nowadays writing real estate ads for boom towns.

HOW FORT SHERIDAN WAS BUILT IS TOLD

Contributor to Tribune Line-O-Type Column From Deer-Field Quoted

Earlier Chicago

Dear Wake-Line: In 1887 a group of Chicago business men subscribed enough money for the purchase of stands. Their purpose was to have a fort near Chicago for protection.

The contractors who took the contract for building the first thirty-seven buildings were Pease, Appleton & Co. Capt. Miller was government inspector. This company failed. My grandfather and two other men had signed their bonds. The latter two failed in business and eight banks broke from this adventure.

It was up to my grandfather to build Fort Sheridan. It took all he had and left him with an enormous debt. He sent for his brother, a brick maker in Fort Madison, Iowa, and bought land in Highwood. There the brick machines were set up and supplied the brick you see in the officers' houses, mess hall, and mail buildings of the fort.

Two other contractors who took later work for more buildings also failed, so Fort Sheridan spelled disaster for a great many Chicago families in the '80s.
