

GALA REFRESHMENTS TO CLOSE RAVINIA

pedes their romance. Gennaro Papi will conduct.

Ravinia Chorus
After this act from "Fra Diavolo," the second scene of act 11 of "Don Pasquale" will be given, which will serve to introduce the justly famous Ravinia chorus in one of the most rousing ensemble numbers in opera and one which literally stopped the performance and made an encore imperative when this work was recently presented for the first time this season. This particular scene has been called "the upset household and it includes some amusing antics by Vittorio Trevisan, who is cast in the name part of "Don Pasquale" and Mario Basiola, who essays the role of Malatesta.

That prolific composer Giuseppe Verdi, never wrote any music of more splendid proportions than that found in the Nile scene of "Aida," and it was only natural that in selecting a gala program vehicle for Mme. Elisabeth Rethberg, Edward Johnson and Giuseppe Danise, that Mr. Eckstein should have turned to this particular excerpt from the most popular of all the Verdi operas. Mme. Rethberg, endowed with a voice of great dramatic power which is combined with lyric finesse, will have in this scene that great and dramatic aria, "O patria mia," which leads to the dust in which Mme. Rethberg as Aida and Mr. Danise as Amonasso, take part and which is generally regarded as one of the most beautiful of the Italian repertoire. Mr. Danise singing the immortal "Rivedrai" and then Rameses, in the person of Edward Johnson, enters to join Aida in the impassioned love duet "Fuggiam gli adori." In addition to Mme. Rethberg, Mr. Johnson and Mr. Danise, Mme. Julia Clausen will appear in this scene in the role of Amneris and Louis D'Angelo will be heard as Ramfis. Gennaro Papi will be the conductor.

Third Act of "Martha"

The romantic third act of "Martha" known as the "Hunting Scene" which will present Tito Schipa in one of his finest roles, contains that splendid aria "M'Appari" which is one of opera's greatest lyric show pieces.

Mr. Schipa has made it peculiarly his own, for with the cloying beauty of his tone, his interpretation and his ability to breathe the spirit of love and longing into a song, it might well have been written to the order of this tenor. It is proverbial in opera circles that whenever Mr. Schipa sings this aria, the performance must be halted until the audience has literally exhausted itself with applause. Mr. Schipa has other brilliant opportunities in this scene and Miss Florence Macbeth, who will appear in the title role, will sing the lilting "Qui Tranquilla" while Virgilio Lazzari as Plunkett has a fine song called the "Conzone del porter." Miss Gladys Swarthout will be heard as Nancy and Louis Hasselmann will conduct.

Sunday Program

A festive air surrounds the events of Sunday, Sept. 2, which will be ushered in by a concert in the afternoon by the Chicago Symphony orchestra under Mr. DeLamarter's direction and during which twelve members of the orchestra will appear as soloists. These include Jacques Gordon, violin; Alfred Wallenstein, cello; Edward Llewellyn, trumpet; Alfred Barthel, oboe; Theodore Yesche, flute; Robert Lindeman, clarinet; Hugo Fox, bassoon; Joseph Vito, harp; Clarence Evans, viola; Pellegrino Lecee, horn; Frances Napolilli, English horn and Gustave Stang, trombone. Eric DeLamarter will conduct.

On Sunday night, Sept. 2, a double bill will be presented consisting of "Pagliacci" and the garden scene from "The Jewels of the Madonna," this being the first time these works have ever been combined. Mme. Rethberg will sing the role of Nedda in "Pagliacci" for the first time this season, although she has achieved splendid success in this part in season's past. Edward Johnson will be cast as Canio in which he has achieved great success, while Giuseppe Danise will be Tonio. Mr. Cehanovsky will be Silvio and Mr. Mojica, Beppe. The garden scene from "The Jewels of the Madonna" will have Miss Easton as Mariella, one of the most dramatic roles in opera, and Mario Chamlee will be heard as Gennaro. Mario Basiola is cast as Raffaele and Anna Correnti will be Carmella. Mr. Papi will conduct.

It is quite a shock to the city boys working on the farms, to find that no shade trees are planted in the corn fields.

Boy Scout News

Scouts go to camp for many reasons. They have great fun and adventure. They make new friends. They get a bigger vision of what scouting is. They are better prepared for life.

That local scouts learned many new things is shown by the following lists of tests passed by Highland Park scouts in camp this summer:

David LaHue, swim 50 yards, 14-mile hike, first aid, map making, nature; Walter LaHue, tracking, scouts race, the compass; Clifton Franklin, 14 mile hike, first aid, axe or handcraft or tree repair, judging, nature; John Meyers, 14 mile hike, the compass; R. Johnson, swim 50 yards—all of troop 31; Robert Lehr, elecentary signaling, 14 mile hike, map making; Robert Sheets, scouts pace, fire building; Walter Willard, use of knife and hatchet; Alex Howard, first aid, map making, judging, nature—all of troop 32; Nicholas Wink, nature; Frederick Harmon, swim 50 yards, signal messages, 14 mile hike, first aid, map making, axe, handcraft or tree repair, judging, nature; John Dingle, swim 50 yards, signal messages by, 14 mile hike, map making, axe, handcraft or tree repair, judging, nature; Sidley Chapman, swim 50 yards—all of troop 33; Grant Herman, troop 31, conservation; Herbert Stevens, Jr., troop 32, wood carving, swimming, life saving, craftwork in leather, also completed his first-class tests; S. New Asst. Executive

The Northshore Area council, Boy Scouts of America, announces the appointment of Carl F. McManus of Detroit, Mich., as the assistant executive, succeeding W. Ted Grant, who resigned. Mr. McManus is a graduate of Alma college and of the Scout Executive National Training school and has a record of 10 years scouting experience. Mr. McManus is a Gold Palm Eagle Scout and the recipient of the 1928 Harmon Foundation Scholarship award for his state of Michigan.

It seems that Northshore scouting is concentrating on the "Mac's", in view of Mr. McManus' appointment assisting Mr. McPeck. The new assistant scout head began his duties on the Northshore on August 27th.

Progress Reported

At a recent meeting of the executive board, various members reported progress in the establishment of a camp fund with which to pay for and equip the newly secured scout camp on Spring Lake in the Wisconsin North Woods. It is planned to raise $7,000.00 to pay for the camp site and a similar amount with which to purchase equipment. Henry Fowler, chairman of the finance and budget committee in the chairman of the fund.

To Take Wisconsin Trip

Mr. Karl D. King, of Wilmette, Mr. Henry Fowler of Wilmette, Mr. Henry Union of Winnetka, Mr. J. R. Goetz of Winnetka, and Mr. Charles Steele of Glencoe, are among the group of North Shore men who plan to motor with their families to the site of the new Northshore Scout camp in northern Wisconsin over Labor Day.

Names Suggested for Camp

There is a prize to be given to the lucky boy who names our beautiful new camp up in northern Wisconsin. Among some of the names, such were suggested as Camp Fallen Arches, Camp Sing-Sing, Camp Blackfeet, Camp Muddy Neck.

Such names as Camp No-Sho-Bee, Camp Hamarack, Camp Whipporwill, Camp White Eagle, Camp Long Pines, Camp Fall Tree and Camp Clear Water, are to be considered. David Danmann, troop 35, Ravinia.

Scout Writes from Canada

Tom Antrim, a patrol leader in troop 12 of Wilmette, is writing to Mr. McPeck, scout executive, from Montreal, Canada, says "We are having a fine time here in Montreal. Hope the troop is alright. Sorry to have missed the last meeting."

Scout Has Busy Summer

When interviewed by the mysterious scout reporter at Murrumbidgee, Sayner, Wis., Claude Hamilton, Eagle scout of troop 13 of Kenilworth, told the reporter that he particularly enjoyed the chance to pass merit badge at camp this summer. He suggests that at our own camp, next summer, there be a lot of handcraft work. Claude says that he is particularly looking forward to troop 13 going on some good hikes during the fall months. Claude is the asstant patrol leader of the stag patrol and a freshman at New Trier high school. He was one of the Northshore scouts elected to membership in the Order of the Arrow this summer—he told the mysterious reporter that his hobbies are fishing and hiking, and his favorite magazines are The American Boy and Popular Mechanics, and that some day he hopes to be an engineer.

"MY MARYAND" WILL OPEN IN CHICAGO SOON

Theatre-goers here are to have an opportunity of seeing the perfect American operetta, "My Maryland," a thrilling, colorful, musical romance which the Messrs. Shubert will present at the Great Northern theatre, beginning September 2nd with the original New York cast.

Those names made famous because of "The Student Prince" and "Blossom Time" are also responsible for "My Maryland"; Messrs. Shubert have produced the operetta, Sigmund Romberg has written the music, Dorothy Donnelly the book and lyrics, and J. C. Huffman has staged the book and all ensembles.

All the old-time tunes of Civil war days and of a time preceding have been utilized in assembling the melodies in a very clever way with strains of martial music and of patriotic airs so that there are songs to tingle the pulses.

The Messrs. Shubert have made a lavish and sumptuous production of "My Maryland" and have given it a brilliant cast, a large and well-trained chorus, with a background of colorful beauty. Every detail of production given evidence of care in the preparations and the settings and the costumes, together with the many songs, the dances, and the melodramatic conflicts are "sure fire."

You may not need a prescription to get liquor from the bootlegger but you are pretty sure to need one after you drink it.
