Eighth Season

This eighth season of the North Shore Theatre Guild is being entered upon with several changes which are important. In the first place, for the first time in its existence, the guild has a director who will devote his entire time to the guild and its work. David Owen, director of last season, has been retained in this new extent, and, in addition to his direction of the guild's four productions, will be available to the guild subscribers for lessons in the theory and practice of stagecraft in any of its branches. Thus, as an addition to its regular schedule of activities, the guild is virtually starting a school of the theatre wherein its members may secure the instruction they desire.

Other Changes

A change somewhat similar has been made in the technical director's department. Richard Woellhof has come to the guild from the University of Michigan to serve as technical director, and he too will devote his entire time to the theatre guild work. Possessed of the entire time and interest of its two directors, the guild anticipates much in the way of finished and artistic production for its patrons.

Of great importance, too, is the new studio of the North Shore Theatre Guild. Large and attractive quarters have been obtained in the Varsity theatre building in Evanston, and therein will be housed the director's office, the workshops and scene-designing shops and the classrooms for the dramatic instruction. This first home of the North Shore Theatre Guild is but one block from the central street of Evanston, readily accessible by the commuter or the driver, and will be most useful as a headquarters from which all the many activities can be directed.

Issue Booklet

A new aid to the committee members in their campaign for members is a booklet of and by the theatre guild which has been prepared during the summer months. The booklet contains the story of the guild, a brief survey of what it has done in the past—listing all of the plays presented, and a concise statement of the aims of the organization and the general plans for the future. It is attractively illustrated with many scenes from the guild productions and closes with a list of the many who have played roles with the theatre guild and a complete list of the guild's organization and committee members. This booklet is being sent to a large mailing list which, no matter how extensive, cannot be complete. Any one who is interested in the guild or in reading about it is welcome to a copy of the booklet; it may be obtained by application to the local chairman of any town.

Subscribers Increase

The number of subscribers to the North Shore Theatre Guild has grown from year to year in most gratifying manner. From a mere handful of two hundred fifty in 1921, it had reached approximately 1500 in 1927-28 and has not, to all reports, ceased growing. It is interesting to see that nearly one-half of the subscribers to the 1927-28 season had renewed their subscriptions for 1928-29 before the actual start of the season's activity. The guild is organized not for profit, and all of the funds obtained are used for the production of the four plays of the season. It stands to reason, therefore, supporters reason, that the more subscribers will mean the better productions.

PROCEEDS OF PARTY TO AID CLUB WORK

language of the immigrant is given on the ship to the people coming to America to make their homes, which gives necessary information for good citizenship. Workers are maintained at Ellis Island and the Golden Gate who provide occupation and handiwork for the immigrants who are detained there.

Scholarships are given to the schools in the mountain districts of the South where education has been so limited, but where people are anxious to avail themselves of the opportunities provided by such schools as Tamasssee, Kate Duncan Smith, Martha Berry, Carr Creek community and the American International college.

Sets of flags showing the history and development of our National Emblem have been made and given to our local schools, as well as American flags to the Woman's club, the Civic club of Ravinia, Boy Scouts, and the flag staff on Central avenue.

Books on the Constitution have been donated to the schools and money given for the maintenance of the Elm Place Night school and the educational department of the Highwood Italian Methodist Episcopal church. Donations have been given to the Great Lakes hospital to provide pleasant surroundings and activities for our men there. This card party is the only means the chapter has for obtaining funds to help with this patriotic education and Americanization work and the support of the community is sincerely desired. Tickets for the card party will be on sale at the door or may be obtained from Mrs. Fred Watkins who is chairman. The public is cordially invited to attend.

EBENEZER CHURCH FINAL SERVICES

of Mr. Winterson yesterday elicited information that no immediate improvement of the property was contemplated.

A brief review of the history of the old Bethany church is furnished as follows by the Rev. C. F. Schriver, pastor of the church:

Evangelical Beginnings

The preaching of the gospel by Evangelical ministers was begun sometime in the late sixties or early seventies. Mother J. Vetter remembers the work of Rev. F. Hoffman whom her husband used to bring from near Des Plaines to call upon and pray with the sick and dying. In 1873 Rev. J. Kurz was stationed at Des Plaines and served the people of Deerfield and Highland Park. The latter work was taken up in earnest in 1882 by Rev. V. Forkel who held services in a building known as "Bro. Grant's Paint Shop." In 1883 the first church was built.

The Ebenezer church was built in 1898, and was dedicated by Bishop Escher. Rev. F. Gingrich was the pastor. Rev. Geo. Schwartz was the first pastor of the Ebenezer class and it is very fitting that we can have him with us for the last Sunday's services in the church. He will preach the word at both services Sunday, Oct. 14. There will be special music at both services.

We hope this may be a home coming day for many folk who at one time or another were members of the societies of the church. For thirty years the church has been the spiritual home of a goodly number of folk. No one knows what influences for Kingdom Building have gone out into the world because of its activities. As we look forward to larger opportunities made possible by a more adequate church building, we pause to give thanks to God for all the blessings he has given and to pledge ourselves anew to Him and the work of His Kingdom.

Public Invited

We invite the public to worship with us next Sunday. Come and enjoy the day with us.

Council Proceedings

In accordance with the report of Commissioners Brown and Zimmer, the city clerk was instructed to write Mr. E. E. Leonard that his request for permission to remove the sidewalk in front of his residence at 611 Carol Court had been denied. The report of the building inspector for the month of September 1928, was ordered placed on file. A summary of this report was published last week.

Commissioner Brown moved the passage of an ordinance entitled, "an ordinance prepared and transmitted and its passage recommended by the Board of Local Improvements of the City of Highland Park, Lake county, Illinois, to the Council of said City, providing for the construction of a reinforced concrete pavement with integral curb and necessary drainage in Burtis avenue, in the City of Highland Park Lake county, Illinois," said ordinance having remained on file for public inspection as required by law.

The motion prevailed. Yeas, Mayor Lewis, Commissioners Brown, Gourley and Zimmer; Nays, none.

Commissioner Gourley moved that the Council take a recess and convene as the board of local improvements. The motion prevailed. Yeas, Mayor Lewis, Commissioners Brown, Gourley and Zimmer; Nays, none.

After the meeting of the Board of Local Improvements, the Council reconvened, the following members being present: Mayor Lewis, Commissioners, Brown, Gourley and Zimmer.

Commissioner Zimmer moved that Geo. L. Vetter be appointed the officer to spread the assessment providing for paving Burtis avenue, Highland Park Special Assessment No. 347.

The motion prevailed. Yeas, Mayor Lewis, Commissioners Brown, Gourley and Zimmer; Nays, none.

Upon motion duly seconded, the meeting adjourned.

FLORSHEIM PURCHASES ESTATE IN THIS CITY

Local Realtor Sells Beautiful Morris Woolf Estate on Lake Front

Milton S. Florsheim, president of the Florsheim Shoe company, has purchased the country estate in Highland Park of Morris Woolf, president of the Morris Woolf Silk company. The price was not disclosed. The property consists of seven acres, fronting on Lake Michigan at Waverly road. It embraces within its confines ravines and wooded tracts. Mr. Florsheim, who lives at the Drake during the winter, takes possession of the residence about Jan. 1, and will use it for his country home. Prior to occupancy by Mr. Woolf the property comprised a part of the Montgomery Ward estate and prior to that it was occupied by Judge Peter Grosscup. Herman P. Anspach of H. and R. Anspach was broker.

1061 STUDENTS NOW ATTEND HIGH SCHOOL

To supply rating cards for new Deerfield-Shields high school students and to keep those of old students up to date, the school office has been making a thorough check on the registration of the school.

It is shown from these cards that there are 1061 students actually reporting to classes.

The cards contain the entire record of a student for the four years. This includes rating, grading, health, and also an identification picture.

Big Excavating Job

The circus acrobat found the clown in tears. "What in the world are you crying about?" he asked.

"The elephant d-d-died," sobbed the clown.

present. Mr. Stafford also has views of Alaska, also taken last summer, and these, it is expected will be shown at a later date.

Three New Members

Three new members were accepted into membership in the Chamber at this meeting. They are the Illinois Life Insurance Co., representatives W. N. Stafford, C. J. Shetzley; Barrett T. Thorne, attorney at law; and the Austin Techau Co Inc., representatives Clark A. Austin and Ernest Techau.

The meeting voted to give the Ravinia Opera Co. a guarantee of $200 again for the year 1929.

It was also decided that the Chamber purchase four acres, at $25 per acre, in the new Boy Scout camp at Spring Lake, Wis., which has been purchased for the use of North Shore Scouts and in which each community on the North Shore is thus taking an interest.

The meeting also voted to authorize the board of directors of the Chamber to invest $500 in bonds.

Select Committee

The nominating committee which will select candidates for officers for the ensuing year and present the slate to the chamber was chosen as follows: William Dooley, chairman; Hugo L. Schneider, Herman Denzel, Walter Meierhoff, Lester L. Stanger, W. J. Brown, George Bowden. The officers for which this committee will select candidates to be voted on by the chamber are: president, vice-president and three directors for two-year terms.

The Highland Park Chamber of Commerce is a live organization as evidenced by the large number of members which regularly attend its meetings and the interest taken by them in every project of community interest and welfare, and the importance of the organization in the progress of the city is generally recognized, according to those who have closely followed its history.

J. M. APPEL ATTENDS BANKERS CONVENTION

The annual convention of the American Bankers association held at Philadelphia adjourned on Friday, October 5. Illinois carried off the highest honors through the election to the presidency of Craig B. Hazelwood, vice president of the Union Trust company of Chicago. Mr. J. M. Appel, president of the Highland Park State Bank attended the convention as a delegate. He was elected a member of the executive council for a term of three years.

Its Best Although decaffeinated coffee may be made as you would natural coffee—either boiled, percolated or by the drip method—it is best when brewed in a drip pot. Heat fresh water to boiling, pour over ground coffee one cup for every tablespoon of coffee and one for pot. Place pot over low flame to keep it hot, but do not boil.
