Why is a boy who likes old Fords like a goat?
Because they both like tin cans.

Mr. Wood, (sarcastically), "How are Mrs. Stone and all the little pebbles?"

Mrs. Stone, (in return) "They are just as well as Mr. Wood and all his splinters."

Man to lady (leaving golf course on third hole): "Why are you quitting now?"

Lady: "Par on this course is 40 and I made it on three holes."

Teacher (in spelling), "Crochet, John." John, "I don't know how."

Sunday School Lesson and Church Announcements

International Sunday School Lesson for November 25
THE PRAYERS OF PAUL
Acts 20:36-38; Ephesians 1:15-16; 3:14-21
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

Limitless opportunities to help others are within the power of every one who knows how to pray. When Paul could not give direct help where he would or when his little was not enough he always had recourse of prayer. He had written to the Thessalonians "Pray without ceasing" and he constantly practiced his own preaching. The Scripture chosen for this lesson suggests only a few of the many prayer experiences of Paul. Others indicated by the Lesson Committee are Romans 1:8-10; Ephesians 1:15-23; 1 Thessalonians 12:5. In addition there are many prayer references in the thirteen letters that Paul wrote. A fine book for general reading is "The Man Paul," Robert E. Speer, D.D., in which there is an especially helpful chapter on "His prayer life."

Much more is involved in prayer than merely asking for what we may desire. There are conditions that we must meet before we can begin asking. Jesus offered a safeguard in prayer that we will do well to follow invariably as we also say "Thy will be done." Then there is an orderly sequence as we are having an audience with the Most High God, such as Adoration, Thanksgiving, Confession, Petition and further Thanksgiving before we say "Amen," so let it be. Two books by the late Andrew Murray have been very helpful: "With Christ in the School of Prayer" and "Ministry of Intercession." Yes, the subject is one for life long study and practice. Paul gives us a helpful start.

Ephesians was written from Rome during the first imprisonment. Paul was limited in the flesh as he was constantly chained to some Roman soldier but his mind and spirit were free to reach Ephesus by way of the throne of Jehovah. He rejoices at the good report which comes concerning the continuing and enlarging faith of his beloved in Ephesus. Then he reminds them of the positive help he is obtaining for them through intercessory prayer. Just as long as one can reach up to God he can, through the power of the Almighty, reach out to any person or place in the world. Such was Paul's habit in maintaining his life work. He did not make self interest the burden of his petitions but asked great things for others through Jesus Christ, for such a joyous privilege was according to the promise given to him and to every one of us. Samuel refused to lay down his prayerfulness though his judgment had been taken away by the people when they asked for a king. This prophet said "God forbid that I should sin against Him in ceasing to pray for you." 1 Samuel 12:23.

Some of the content of one of Paul's prayers is indicated in Eph. 3:15-21. For five verses there is a massing of petitions before we find a single period. His posture is down on both knees, but in mind he faces the Throne. Read that prayer a number of times. Better still, commit it to memory and use it as you seek large blessings for others, and especially for any one who is ill-treating you. A fine indication that you have forgiven is when you pray wholeheartedly for the one who has wronged you. There is no limitation in the love or forgiveness of the Christ, Who can do "exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think." It is mighty to be on praying terms with such a King!

United Evangelical

Rev. C. G. Unangst, pastor
November has been a splendid month with the church thus far. Let us make the last Sunday the climax day of the month. Some were hindered from attending the services on last Sunday by sickness. We trust all of them will be with us on Sunday. Note that hereafter the Sunday evening service will begin at 7:30, and not at 7:45 as in the past.

At 10:45 a.m. the pastor will preach on "The Prophet of the Bleeding Heart and the Iron Will." At 7:30 p.m., he will speak on "Where are the Nine?"

Let every class have a full attendance at the Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. The orchestra is doing well. The superintendent will make a very interesting special announcement at the close of the session. Do not miss it. The lessons on the life of Paul are most interesting. On Sunday morning we are to consider the prayers of the Great Apostle. See Acts 20:36-38; Eph. 1:15, 16; 3:14-21. Note his petitions for the safekeeping, the enlightenment and the growth of Christians. The Golden Text exhorts us to "Rejoice evermore, pray without ceasing, and in every thing to give thanks. Those who will do this will have a "Thanksgiving Day" every day of the year. A life fully yielded to God and filled with the Holy Spirit will be a life of overflowing joy and praise.

Roy Fiddler will lead the Christian Endeavor meeting at 6:45 p.m. Topic, "Remember God!" Eccl. 12:1; Ps. 103:1-5.

Note the following services for praise and prayer: Sunday at 9:00 a.m., Wednesday at 8:00 p.m., and Saturday at 7:45 p.m. It is suggested that the service on next Wednesday evening be made a congregational praise meeting, when all members and friends of the church shall gather to give thanks to God for His manifold mercies and blessings. It has been said that, "When we stand with Christ in glory, looking o'er life's finished story," the most amazing feature of that life as it is looked back upon will be its prayerlessness.

"O Lord by Whom we come to God, The Life, the Truth, the Way, The path of prayer Thyself has trod; Lord, teach us now to pray."

This church will unite with the other churches in the union thanksgiving service at the Episcopal church on Thanksgiving Day at 10:30 a.m. The doors of the church will be opened for the reception of members on Sunday, Dec., 2.

Grace M. E. Church

North avenue at Lauretta
Rev. Frank D. Hopkins, minister
The Ladies Aid is giving another of their toothsome dinners this Thursday evening at the church, and will be glad to see their many friends present. Dinner will be served at 6:15.

District Supt. J. Hastie Odgers, in presiding over the quarterly conference Sunday evening, stated that the reports given indicated the church was in a most healthful condition and expressed himself as much pleased with its prospects for the future.

This church and its pastor will join in the Union Thanksgiving service to be held at Trinity Episcopal church on Thanksgiving day at 10:30 o'clock and the pastor urges all members to attend if possible.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will speak on the topic "The Christian Church" and will touch upon such questions as: "Just what constitutes a Christian Church? Has any religious organization the right to use the term 'Church'? Is the present form of the church what Jesus had in mind to found? Does age and continuity of history authenticate a Christian church? Will we ever have a united, uniform church? Would it be better to leave the Words "Catholic church" out of the creed?"

The pastor and family are now settled in the parsonage and "at home" to all members and friends. Please do not expect the "calling" to all be done by the pastor.

Swedish Methodist

Highwood avenue and Everts place
Rev. William A. Nelson, pastor
Saturday, Nov. 24: 10:00 a.m.—Meeting of the Confirmation class at church. Each member is requested to bring pencil, notebook, Bible and the booklet entitled "When We Join Church"; The Ladies Sewing Circle will have a sale at church. The selling will be limited to such articles as will make nice Christmas gifts. Instead of having an Annual Sale as has been the custom, the ladies have decided to have two special sales, one in the Fall and the other in the Spring of each year. Under the old system everything was sold in one evening or, rather, in one night; those who stayed until the sale was over seldom returned home until almost mid-night. Under the new plan the selling should be over by 9 o'clock, leaving time for refreshments and a social period after which everyone may go home without becoming overly tired. The committee in charge of the sale asks that all articles to be sold be brought to church either on Friday afternoon or early Saturday evening.
Sunday, Nov. 25: 10:30 a.m.—Sunday school; 6:00 p.m.—Epworth League Missionary meeting. Miss Carlson, our second vice-president will have charge; 7:45 p.m.—Evening service. Subject: "Our Great Opportunities." There will be special singing. The public is invited.
