

In a few days we will distribute checks for Christmas Savings Accounts, which will solve some of the season's difficulties. And remember that next season's difficulties can be solved easily by joining one of the NEW Christmas clubs.

HIGHWOOD DEFEATS WARREN PARK, 21-0

Visitors Unable to Stop Highwood Backs; Play Winnetka Next Sunday

A wet field prevented the Highwood eleven from running up a larger score in their game with the Warren Park A. C. which they won by the score of 21-0. A good crowd was present despite the threatening skies and the cold breezes.

Due to late arrival of the visiting team the game was started rather late, but by shortening the time-out periods and the half rest period, they were able to play the whole game.

In the first quarter Highwood scored a safety in the first five minutes of play, when Santi broke through and blocked a punt which Warren Park recovered behind their goal line. Warren Park kicked off to Highwood and an exchange of punts left the ball on the Warren Park thirty yard line. A long pass to Dever put the ball on the fifteen yard line, and Dever made five more through left tackle, after which Boylan went through right tackle for the touchdown.

In the second quarter Highwood took the ball down the length of the field, using only line plays, only to lose the oval by a fumble on the scoring play.

Highwood scored two more touchdowns in the second half with long marches down the field. With Fink running the ends, Abbott and Boylan slipping thru the tackles and Cronkite plowing through center and right guard, the Warren Park boys were unable to hold down the score although they fought hard to do so.

Next Sunday Highwood plays Winnetka at New Trier high school athletic field. This fray, which promises to be a good game and on Thanksgiving Day Highwood plays Lake Forest at Farwell field. These two teams are old rivals and as Highwood is out to avenge their defeat by the Lake Forest team last year this is sure to be a hotly contested game.

Taking It Easy

Those older men you see "taking it easy" and enjoying life, didn't get their money by gambling, playing the races, or in a "get-rich-quick" scheme.

If you could have seen them 10 or 15 years ago, you would see that they worked hard for every dollar they got, but they showed their wisdom by banking a part of their earnings.

There is no patent on this, it is free to everyone, and if you would be like them at their age, come in and open a savings account in our bank. It is never too late to start.

LIBRARY RECEIVED READING COURSES

Wide Range of Subjects Offered by American Library Association

The Highland Park Public library has just received an interesting lot of reading courses from the American Library association. The public is invited to examine them. They cover a wide range of subjects, science, philosophy, art, literature, history, drama, politics, etc. Nearly everyone will find here some subjects in which he is especially interested, some hobby, perhaps, or a line of thought with which he has always wanted to acquaint himself. The courses offer an opportunity to realize latent ambitions and at the same time to find real enjoyment in profitable reading.

The series was started three years ago and during that time half a million courses have been distributed throughout the country. People in every walk of life have written approvingly of them. They are neither for high brows nor for low brows but for anyone who wishes to spend his time profitably and to make his reading count. No red tape is involved in following the courses according to Miss Hendee, librarian.

FAKE EYE GLASSES VENDOR IS SOUGHT

Complaining that she had been made the victim of a "fake eye doctor" who is selling cheap spectacles around Waukegan at a high price, Mrs. Frank Watson of 620 South Jackson street called the police last week and gave them a description of the man.

She said he left two pairs of glasses at her house and took a $10 deposit, promising to return and give back the money if the glasses were not satisfactory. Mrs. Watson said that the glasses can be bought for ten cents a pair, and that the man never came back. She saw him on the street today, started to question him, and he ran away. Police are warning citizens to beware of his sales.

After hearing the politicians talk for two months, the people have concluded that the only kind of gas they care for is the kind you can step on. There is a dispute as to when a president should be inaugurated, but anyway it should be in season to throw out the first baseball of the season.

Mr. Hoover is going to South America to promote good will. Most of us when elected president will probably go there or somewhere else to avoid the office seekers.

Most men say they would not want to be president of the United States, but none of the girls has so far refused anyone for fear he might be elected to this job.

Each of these things has a significance in the reading of character.

PRESENT TONY SARG'S MARIONETTES HERE

"The Adventures of Christopher Columbus" to Be Given November 26

Tony Sarg's Marionettes, under the direction of Rachel Busy Kinsolving will be presented at the Elm Place auditorium Monday afternoon and evening, Nov. 26 from four to eight o'clock in "The Adventures of Christopher Columbus."

The inimitable Tony Sarg Marionettes are appearing in a new production this season, a dramatization of Washington Irving's "Life of Columbus," by Anne Stoddard and Tony Sarg. The settings for this new play are of extraordinary beauty. There are splendid Spanish Court scenes, underwater scenes, Indian war dances, new music and new puppets. The leading events in the life of Columbus are portrayed, from the time of his appeal to Queen Isabella to his return to Spain after his great adventure.

In addition to the leading characters of the play, there are the attendants of King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella, sailors, Indians of San Salvador and Hispaniola, and as usual in Tony Sarg's plays, some marvelous animals—a sea serpent, a whale, a monkey, parrots and tropical birds. Full of laughs and thrills, a picture-pageant of animated puppets, with scenery like a trip to Fairyland, it is a play which should be seen by every American child.

BRINGS HOME PRIZES FROM FLOWER SHOW

Fritz Bahr Awarded Three Prizes at Chicago National Show Last Week

Unfortunately we were unable last week to let our readers know about the splendid showing made by Mr. Fritz Bahr, our local florist, at the Great National Flower show, held in the ball room of the Stevens hotel, but the prizes were not awarded until Thursday after we had gone to press.

The fact that this show was not a local affair but staged under the auspices of the National Chrysanthemum Society of America, with entries from practically every state and the largest growers, makes the winning of three prizes by Mr. Bahr still more significant.

A cordial invitation is extended to every one of our readers to pay Mr. Bahr's new greenhouses, located at the west end of Park avenue, a visit. A party of forty leading florists, exhibitors at the show did so last week and a full column appeared in the New York Florists Exchange, the leading Florist Journal of America, dwelt at length on the splendid stock and high state of culture as practiced here, as well as on the high quality of flowers on display.

The voice of the people used to be called the voice of God, but that was before the voice of the people was principally heard at the football games.
