NUMBER 42

ENCOURAGING CRIME

Carelessness and stupidity on the part of the victims is responsible for much of the thieving and swindling which has reached such alarming proportions in this country, amounting to approximately two billions a year.

Some of the specific weaknesses of our "easy marks" are pointed out by a leading criminologist, who enumerates cashing checks for strangers, leaving automobiles unprotected, carrying unnecessarily large sums of money, buying real estate without seeing it or investigating its title, investing in stocks and schemes without consulting a banker, trying to beat gamblers at their own games, lending money and extending credit to persons of doubtful honesty, and so on.

If people fail to exercise any caution whatever in these matters, no law or official action can effectively protect them from thieves, swindlers and dead beats.

While the punishment of criminals often occurs, it usually happens too late to do the victim any good, so far as recovering his money or property is concerned.

Honest people have it in their own power to greatly reduce losses from the above mentioned causes, by merely exercising ordinary good judgment, instead of indulging in reckless practices which encourage crime.

BUILD LASTING ROADS

In this remarkable era of good road building, much discussion of methods and materials to be employed in construction, has been heard. Various types of roads have their advocates and claims are made for the superiority of each.

As a matter of fact, so far as material is concerned, local conditions may be permitted to govern to a great extent, provided any one of the well-tested kinds that may be available is used. It would seem to be inadvisable to ship road materials great distances when an equally good product might be secured close at hand.

But regardless of the surfacing material to be used, the grading and foundations should be of a permanent nature.

Every interest of economy demands that before any great sum is spent on the improvement of a road the final surveys and establishment of grades should be made, so that fills may be allowed to settle and become compact before surfacing is done.

A firm foundation is highly desirable in any undertaking, and nowhere is this more strikingly true than in road building.

St. Paul's Evangelical Church

Rev. F. G. Piepenbrok, pastor

How did you feel these past two Sundays with churches and Sunday schools closed? The pastor and his family felt lost and lonely Sunday morning, but now rejoice in the fact that all will be well by Sunday, Dec. 16. We are looking forward to a great day and hope to see all the members and friends of St. Paul's school and worship.

Church school, 9:15 a. m.

Services, 10:15 a. m.

Confirmation Saturday, 9:00 a. m.

On account of the scarlet fever quarantine our Christmas plans have to be changed. The cantatas which we planned to render will be laid aside for next year. Definite plans as to what we will do can not be announced until next week. No doubt we will have only one Christmas program instead of three as we had planned. We appeal to the parents and children to help us make the best of the situation, and we shall have a blessed Christmas celebration in spite of all.

On account of our first league basketball game with Northbrook at Glencoe Central school the choir will not meet Friday evening. Both Cantata groups are kindly requested to meet at the church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

On Sunday evening, Dec. 23, the Christmas program will be given. The pageant "The Shepherd's Vision" will be given by members of the Sunday school. This pageant is being directed by Miss Alice Rehm. Further announcement of this pageant, together with the cast of characters will appear in next week's paper. Watch for the announcement and plan to attend this service.

Our church orchestra will render a concert on Sunday, Dec. 30, at 8 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to the services of this church.

Campaign speeches may not change many votes but they are certainly a great talking point for the radio salesmen.

As the nights grow longer the campaign grows stronger.

Most of the humble workmen of the country are too busy driving their six-cylinder cars to stop and listen to any prosperity or calamity talk.
