

North Shore News

Every once in a while some one who has charge of the affairs of the Kenilworth club attempts some novel and unique idea in the way of entertainment. It is difficult to arrange card parties, either bridge or Military euchre, in any but the usual way and it takes a clever hostess to plan a luncheon or dinner which is "different."

On last Friday evening the two hostesses, Mrs. DeWitt Stillman and Mrs. Jacques de la Chapelle, together with their respective husbands presented a "Dance Guape" — Soiree Parisienne, and it was a real French dinner dance. Even the orchestra appearing in smocks and French berets giving the appearance of the Latin quarter of Paris.

Those in charge had gone to no end of trouble to decorate the rooms of the club with French posters and over the door of the way to the dining room was the large sign "Au Rat Mort." The tables were laid with red and white checked oil cloth and the only lighting in the room came from candles of all sizes, shapes, and colors, stuck in old French wine bottles. "Red Wine" had been announced so the two head waiters, the hostesses, the soiree during the evening brought in two big wash tubs filled with cracked ice and old wine bottles filled with a red claret punch. It caused a great deal of merriment.

A real French dinner was served, some of the courses having been prepared at the French restaurant in Chicago. It was a "real" party and very successful.

The following parties are scheduled for December: December 14 supper bridge; December 21, an entertainment; December 28, Young Peoples dances and Children's party; December 31, New Year's Eve dance.

NEW HOSPITAL TO BE READY IN SIX WEEKS

Will Move Into New Institution on Waukegan Road About January Seventh

Work of building the new St. Therese hospital at Washington street and Keller avenue is nearing completion and indications are that the massive structure will be ready for dedication in February. Sisters of the Holy Ghost who are erecting and will conduct the institution, are preparing, however, to move into their quarters in the building on January 7.

The work of plastering and decorating is still in progress and these operations will not be completed for at least another month it was declared today.

The building will, however, be partly equipped before it is completed and the work of installing the equipment will probably be carried out as fast as various rooms in the institution are made ready to receive it.

The hospital which is to be one of the largest and finest in the state outside of the city of Chicago, will cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000 when ready for operation.

The Sisters of the Holy Ghost, builders of the institution, have their headquarters at Techny, Ill., where they maintain a large school for girls.

Physicians and surgeons of Waukegan have already organized to serve the staff of the hospital. The institution will be non-sectarian.

BOARD ADJOURNS; NO ACTION ON GAS TAX

Could Not Agree on Amount So the Matter Was Dropped in Committee

The board of supervisors adjourned the state legislature.

The one passed by many of the counties provided for a 3 cents a gallon tax, in which one cent would go to the county and a half cent to the cities and villages.

Supervisor Edward Mawman was said to be bitterly opposed to the 3-cent tax but willing to agree on a 2 cent tax for the consideration of the state legislature.

The board referred the proposal to the resolutions committee but it was never reported out.

Members agreed, it is understood, that their action would have little effect on the legislature so it was decided to let the proposition die in committee and await any vote of the legislature.

At the time the first gas tax was proposed the board suggested that the state enact it as a law. This was done but it was later declared invalid by the supreme court.

NEW WILMETTE BANK OPENS FOR BUSINESS

Business Section of North Shore Community Beautified by New Building

The First National bank of Wilmette held its formal opening on Saturday its new headquarters on Wilmette avenue a half block north of Central avenue. The new building, one of the finest of its kind in this vicinity, helps to beautify the business section of Wilmette. The architects, Hamilton, Fellows and Wilkinson, designed the bank structure in the Italian Romanesque style. The same architects recently planned the new addition to the Skokie school in Winnetka, which provides a big gymnasium. They also were the architects for the Winnetka Trust and Savings bank.
