BRIEF NEWS ITEMS FROM LAKE COUNTY

NEIGHBORHOOD JOTTINGS

Interesting Happenings About This Part of North Shore and Vicinity; County Seat Doings

States Attorney A. V. Smith last week sounded a warning to Lake county folks who have held the opinion that violations of the prohibition law will be overlooked during the New Year's holidays that they are laboring under a false belief.

"The prohibition law is to be enforced during the holidays just as rigidly as any other period during the year," States Attorney Smith said. "There is absolutely no more reason why violations of the law should be tolerated at New Year's than any other time and violators will find this out to their sorrow."

Out of work, penniless, with no fuel and no food in the house and with his wife and their 9 months old baby sick with the flu, was the condition in which Miss Ida Himmelreich, Waukegan Humane officer, found a local family when she investigated a call from a neighbor last week.

The little family, where sickness, adversity and downright bad luck seems to have vented all their spleen, are living in an attic at the northeast corner of Grand and Lewis avenue. There is a stove, but nothing to burn in it. There are cooking utensils but nothing to cook in them, and the little family lay huddled in their bed, trying to keep warm in their unheated room, and trying to recover from the ravages of the flu that has struck their poorly fortified bodies while they were going cold and hungry for want of aid.

Reorganization of the Waukegan and North Chicago Chamber of Commerce under a system of by-laws and constitutions such as suggested by the United States Chamber of Commerce was approved by members of the board of directors of the chamber at a meeting held in the Hotel Karcher last week.

Notice of election, that will decide whether three towns will have a community high school, was posted last week by T. A. Simpson, county superintendent of schools. The towns included are all of Grant, one section in Lake Villa, and two sections and parts of two others in Antioch.

WILMOT P. T. A. ENJOYS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Last Friday evening, Dec. 21, was the time for the regular P.T.A. meeting. The president called for the reports of the secretary and treasurer and presented the new piano to the school.

The Christmas program was given by the children under the direction of the teachers.

The playlet "Tommy Murphy's Christmas" was given, costumes were appropriate and parts well taken. The real thought of the playlet was that of helping others less fortunate than ourselves.

Mrs. Meyer thanked Mr. E. L. Clavey for donating the beautiful Christmas tree. Treats of fruits from the teachers and two candy canes in attractive boxes from the P.T.A. were presented to the children. There were many other gifts some of which were made by the children for their parents.

The next meeting of the P.T.A. will be held Friday, Jan. 18. Fuller announcement later.

BEAUTIFUL PAGEANT GIVEN SUNDAY NIGHT

"The Shepherd's Vision" was the title of the beautiful Christmas pageant given at the Bungalow church last Sunday night.

Though they worked under handicap and a number of characters had to drop out at the eleventh hour on account of illness and places had to be filled, the pageant was a complete success. The costumes were superb in many instances.

Those taking part showed they were capable even under difficulty to do some very fine work. The musical accompaniment both vocal and instrumental was splendid.

The White Gifts for the King were presented by representatives of each department of the Sunday school and church.

Miss Rehm certainly proved her ability as a conductor of pageantry. Members of the Sunday school received boxes of chocolates in the morning.

RUDOLPH ECKER WILL REMEMBER ATTORNEY

Widow Gets Majority of $75,000 Estate; Property Eventually Goes to Grandsons

Rudolph Ecker, retired farmer who lived at 333 Hickory street, Waukegan, remembered the man who attended him during his last illness and the attorney who advised him for more than 20 years, it was revealed before Probate Judge Martin C. Decker, where the will in the $75,000 estate was filed.

Attorney Alex F. Beaubien, his counsel, was left a legacy of $1,000 and Paul Klesow, of Waukegan, who was close with him five months prior to his death November 20, also received $1,000.

The will was admitted to probate and letters testamentary were issued to Mr. Beaubien.

It was estimated that he left $50,000 in personal property and $25,000 in real estate.

The widow, Christina Ecker, was given the life use of the estate which was turned over to the First National bank as trustee.

At her death it is to be held for the benefit of two grandsons, Ben, 23, and John, 14, both of Waukegan. They are to partake in half of the estate at the age of 25 and receive the full shares at 30 years of age.

Mr. Ecker, one of the early residents of the county, lived on a farm near Libertyville for many years. Several years ago he retired and took up his residence at Waukegan.
