"Uncle Tom's Cabin" Coming to the Alcyon

"Uncle Tom's Cabin." What homely, sympathetic recollections the mere mention of the play brings to mind; Little Eva, symbol of purity and love, her tragic death and her rise to heaven in the arms of the shining angel; Topsy, mischievous inky imp, who "jes' growed," and who had no respect for the property rights of others.

The coarse, brutal Simon Legree and his ever-present bullwhip; sweet Eliza and her harrowing experiences in the immortal crossing-the-ice scene; heroic George Harris, the gallant hero and husband of Eliza.

There is pious Uncle Tom, who although a black man, "had a white heart;" the shifty Marks, of "my-name-is-Marks, I'm-a-lawyer" fame and the hundred and one other familiar characters.

Who is there who did not thrill at the chilling baying of the hounds as they tugged at the leashes in the hands of Haley, Loker, Harris and their black henchmen?

Where is the eye that did not fill with tears at the harrowing experiences of poor Tom and Eliza and Cassie? And how the laughter roared out at the comicalities of Topsy, the maiden antics of Aunt Ophelia and the frequent discomfiture of Marks?

Faithfully and with the labor of love Universal has translated into films each of the salient features of Harriet Beecher Stowe's immortal novel and in a massive production whose proportions have never before been equalled, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," for the first time will be shown Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Alcyon Theatre.

Fashion Revue to Be Staged at Deerpath

One of the most brilliant social affairs of the season will be a pageant of style and fashion to be held at the Deerpath Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, April 9-10, to be sponsored by the merchants of Lake Forest under the direction of Madam Marcucci.

Lost Vault Discovery May Alter Land Titles

Discovery of a lost vault in the basement of the old criminal court building in Chicago it was reported today may clear the title to Chicago real estate valued at millions of dollars. The old vault, long forgotten, was found back of a furnace and is said to contain real estate records salvaged from the Chicago fire. It was said that court decisions of years ago based on loss of the records in the fire may be affected by the find.

In the course of cleaning out the building permission was granted to destroy exhibits in some of the most sensational criminal cases ever heard here. Among the famous murder cases, the exhibits of which will be

Local young ladies and gentlemen including a number of professionals will take part, and it is expected that a very brilliant performance will be given.

Vitaphone and movietone in its most perfect form will be offered to the Deerpath Theatre patrons on or about the 20th of April. Only the most recent and selected talkies will be presented leaving no place for the mediocre subject.

"White Lilacs" Is Now at Selwyn Theater

"White Lilacs," the famous love story of the great composer Chopin and Mme. George Sand, the feminist-novelist, told with music, is the attraction at the Selwyn Theatre. "White Lilacs" is a stage production of the same style as Blossom Time, which had Franz Schubert as its central character.

Just as "Blossom Time" had much of Schubert's music in its score, so is the music of "White Lilacs" embellished with many of Chopin's Loveliest and most popular melodies.

Harry B. Smith is said to have consistently chronicled in the story the important episodes in the life of Chopin and Karl Hajos, the Hungarian composer, has arranged a thematic embroidery taken from the masterpieces of the Polish-French musician and liberally paraphrased by himself.

"A Connecticut Yankee" Coming to Chicago

A musical comedy based upon one of the most popular stories by Mark Twain "A Connecticut Yankee," comes to the Garrick Theatre on Easter Sunday after completing a solid year's run in New York. It is a fanciful story, replete with wit and timely criticism. The cast is headed by William Caxton who appears in the stellar role. The efficient supporting company includes Mary Adams, Hana Bryant, Alice Cavanaugh, Dorothy Rubino, Paul Everton, Jack Thompson, Richard Lane, George E. Mack, Gordon Burby and others. There is a large chorus of singers and dancers.

destroyed, are the Cronin case of 1889; the Johann Hoch case the Carl Wanderer case, the Nitti case, the Harvey Church case and the Earl Dear case.

Organize Session Relays to Develop Track Material

In order to secure more track material at Deerfield-Shields, session relay teams have been organized. These teams are competing against one another in order to determine who can make the best time in special events.

Mr. Platt's session is holding the lead at the present time with a total of 30 points. Mr. Slocum's session is second with 15 points.
