

Talking Pictures to Be Installed Soon at The Deerpath Theatre

Polka Brothers' Deerpath theatre, Lake Forest, will shortly install facilities for presentation of talking pictures, using both the Vitaphone and Movietone equipment. In this connection Manager J. C. Emma of the Deerpath theatre issues the following announcement:

Talking pictures are no longer a novelty. The theatre-going public has been told and shown how the Vitaphone and Movietone have made great strides toward perfection. It has been told of how the origin of Vitaphone and Movietone may be traced back to the days of the first telephone and how Mr. Edison, the electrical wizard who invented the kinetophone in 1913 to synchronize speech and action was told by critics that it was only a passing fancy.

The public also has been told of the successful demonstration made on August 6, 1926, at the Warner Brothers theatre, in New York City, with the first synchronized picture, "Don Juan," and how, in two short years, it has captured the fancy and imagination of the entire country. Also the public has been told of the tremendous cost of the equipment to the scores of other facts connected with the innovation.

Little remains to be said, except that we promise to exert our best efforts in the selection of talking pictures and to give the best reproduction obtainable, which only the most perfect equipment and the excellent acoustic qualities of the Deerpath theatre can make possible.

Joseph C. Emma, manager.

The name of the senior play which the Libertyville high school will give is "The Whole Town's Talking." It will be presented the latter part of April.
