

Children Lecture Guests

den club is sponsor-e given this after-2:50 o'clock, in the ditorium for 50 Ar-nd children of the
he school.

Bailey, director of
ciences in Chicago,
ea Birds and Coral
g his lecture with Dr. Bailey gave this the winter for the t of the Woman's was so enthusi-
that the Glencoe
the lecture would cially would appeal

Bailey's pictures
aysan, a coral atoll
orthwest of Hawaii,
one of the most in-
ands in the world
eat colonies of ab-
ar birds, and terns

Looks for Building Activity

ok for a record-
building activity in e announcement re-
lage has been chos-
for the new $350,- ountry club project
viation corporation,
n of an unpreced-
ivity for that thriv-
which joins Glencoe

development, it is planks in the platparties which will d for votes at the ction to be held in ay, April 16.

Finance
es Plan Group

lan Commission, a organized several rich in the past has service, but not ase of lack of pro-
agency, is now to nder specific regulaoth to its continua-

making this proced-
passed at the meet-
board Thursday eve-ointive members of ill be named within announced.

matters now pend-
in which co-opera-
sed new plan com-
desired.

e of Lake
Business College

Pettengill, C.P.A., Lake County Busi-
ounces a change in t institution to the ommerce. At a re-
the board of direc-
ed to change to this ore indicative of the scope of the college
egan.

the school under the
has been apparent
few months by the ent of students and
r of calls for help Employment bureau
ake county.

EARLY MARRIAGES

Among my young friends there is one who has put up to me a question that I think is of general interest to young people. He is a young man, about twenty, normal in every respect, and anxious to get married, but his parents feel that he is too young.

"Wait a while," they have urged him, "until you have had a chance to play a bit and are making more money. Then you can seriously consider marriage."

And so he has asked me for my views on early marriage.

I believe definitely and emphatically in early marriage. As soon as a youth has attained man's estate it is time for him to marry. Aside from the pleasure of sharing your joys and sorrows with the one you love, early marriage has enabled many a young man to avoid temptations that he might otherwise find impossible to overcome.

Furthermore, early marriage establishes a high ideal at a period of life when habits are being formed. Every normal boy, when he attains manhood, has a distinct and emphatic desire for a home, a wife and children, along with the duties and responsibilities it involves. He craves the companionship of one upon whom he can shower his affection. He wants to be loved in return, and it is only right that these yearnings should be satisfied early in life.

It is true that we cannot overlook the financial burden of a home and children as an important factor of the problem. As a rule, the earning capacities of a man in his twenties are limited, but the responsibilities that come with marriage often act as a stimulus to a man who might otherwise be inclined to take things easy and watch for a "lucky break." The necessary and the desire to protect and provide for those who are dear to him, is character building, and often such a young man arrives at a comparatively early success in life because of his economic burdens and not in spite of them.

Until some entirely different social and economic system is evolved, men must continue to bear the brunt of paying the bills. That is the game of life as we know it, and he who would play must abide by the rules.

The longer marriage is delayed, the less chance it has of ever being consummated. We already have an alarming percentage of unmarried men and women who are of a marriageable age—which means one of two things. They are either taking love where and when they find it, with all the dangers that implies; or else they are living the life of celibates, which is both unhealthy and unnatural.

Therefore, I say that marriage after the twentieth year should not be discouraged if a high standard of health, happiness and morality are to be attained.

—Bernare MacFadden.

Navy Recruits Wanted
For Ships of Fleet

The Navy Recruiting Station, Chicago, reports that vacancies will exist on naval ships in all branches, of the Atlantic and Pacific coast fleets, these vacancies are caused by the completion and subsequent launching of two new cruisers in July, the crews of which will consist of men taken from both the seaboard fleets.

The Navy offers an opportunity for young men to learn a trade in one of the fourteen different trade schools teaching 55 different trades, it also offers an enviable opportunity for young men to see the world in all its glory and romance, under Uncle Sam's Jack-Tar flag.

After a training of eight weeks at the Naval Training station, Great Lakes, Ill., the recruits will be sent to San Diego, Calif. A recruit, to be admitted into the Navy, must be of good character and have an eighth grade education and pass a rigid physical examination. Any one interested should write or see Theodore W. Davis, 608 South Dearborn street, Chicago, Navy representative.

Garden Study Course Given During April

An April garden study course occurring four Mondays in April, are being given by Mrs. John Lind of Kenilworth at 11 o'clock each week in a private room adjoining the college inn at the Hotel Sherman. Lunch is served.

The subjects for the lectures, past and future, are:

April 1—"Garden Plans for Year; Seed Catalogue Time; Raising Your Own Stock."

April 8—"Outlines of Work Planned; Roadside Planting; Civic Planting; Altruistic Use of Gardens; Best Garden Books."

April 15—"Planting Tables; Color Schemes; Design in the Garden; Garden Do's and Garden Don'ts."

April 22—"The Technique of Making a Garden; Styles; Fertilizers; Sprays; Pruning; Transplanting."

The course is offered at the request of district chairmen of gardening of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs and is open to anyone interested in gardening.

Woman in Auto Races
Train to Safe Place

Trapped in the center of the Chicago & North Western tracks at Winnetka last week with closed gates at the front and rear of her automobile and train bearing down from either direction, Mrs. Oscar C. Helm elected to race the slower of the two trains, a local, and won.

For 200 yards she raced down the tracks, with the train behind always gaining. Reaching the station she drove on the platform safe by a matter of seconds. She had her sister, Miss Bertha Steiner, as a passenger. Mrs. Helm lives at 1159 Chatfield road, Winnetka.

Gateman or Device at Crossing Up in Court

A railroad company may not replace human flagmen with electric signaling devices at dangerous grade crossings where a city ordinance requires the former method of safeguarding the traveling public, the Supreme Court of the United States has just ruled in an important decision, of interest to all autoists.

The decision upholds the power of a city to determine in what manner dangerous grade crossings within its limits shall be protected, according to the legal department of the American Motorists association, in co-operation with the Automobile club of Illinois.

The ordinance involved in the decision was passed by the city of Memphis, Tenn., 40 years ago and required the presence of flagmen swing-flags in daytime, and lighted lanterns in the night time at all railroad crossings. Without regard for the ordinance, one railroad company removed its crossing watchmen and substituted in their places modern mechanical signaling apparatus. An autoist was killed at one of the crossings and the carrier's violation of the ordinance was urged as the proximate cause of the accident.

KAUFFMAN RADIATOR
SHIELDS AND ENCLOSURES

Will PROTECT YOUR WALLS
and DRAPES

INSTALL
THEM
NOW
DURING SPRING
HOUSE

CLEANING

An Insurance Policy on Your

Decorations

Estimates Cheerfully Furnished

American Metal Products Co.

605 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago

Superior 7562

In Tune With Spring

... the fascinating new Arch Preserver Shoes, styled to harmonize with your smartest ensembles ... and built with patented hidden comfort features that will put the buoyancy of Life's Springtime into your every step!

New Models for Every Occasion ... $10 up

Fell Bros
SHOES

509

Central

Ave.

Phone

H. P.

456

CHINESE DISHES

Husband won't be grouchy if you don't serve the same dishes too often. You can get pleasing variety in Chinese dishes at all hours—convenient to take home.

CHICKEN CHOW MEIN - PORK CHOW MEIN
CHICKEN CHOP SUEY - PORK CHOP SUEY

EGG FOUE JOUNG
Prepared by our Chinese chef

COLLEGE INN

Phone 547

Highland Park, Ill.

LAKE FOREST SCHOOL of MUSIC

FOURTH SUBSCRIPTION CONCERT

Season 1928-1929

The Barrere Little Symphony Orchestra

SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 13

at 8:15 o'clock

THE COLLEGE CHAPEL

Tickets $2.50, obtainable at the Music School, telephone 999,

or at Kraft's Drug Store