Local Organizations
Open Thrift Shop to Aid Charity, Saturday

This Saturday, April 13, brings the opening of the Thrift Shop recently organized to carry on the thrift department of the Community shop, which is now ceasing its activities, after many years of splendid work.

This Thrift Shop will be run by the Highland Park organizations, namely, the Hospital Auxiliary, Infant Welfare and Northwestern Settlement. They will continue to receive and sell all sorts of clothes, household goods, books, playthings, brass beds, pictures, etc.

The proceeds will go to the charitable work of the three organizations and to other charities, which they want to help.

They are thus doing double work—helping six or seven charities and offering, to those of modest means, opportunities to buy at most reasonable rates.

This week they are especially featuring baby things, clothes, equipment, etc.

They ask the public to aid them by sending in whatever they have and don't need in this line—also in any other line—any white elephants or unwanted bric-a-brac—everything is welcome and will find a sale.

The shop is open from 9:30 to 5 as before and is in the same location on Central avenue.

Come on Saturday and help the opening.
