

"Very Latest"

by Cecile

Hats for spring and summer disclose many novelty fabrics in unusual weaves and patterns. There are straws in odd weaves, felts, crochet models, straw and felt combinations in endless variety, and in pleasant contrast to these, hats and matching hand-bags of belting ribbon which contribute a great deal of chic to the costume.

The set illustrated is by Frances Clyne—the hat is soft rosy beige and bag in three shades deepening into brown. These, with a crepe frock in cocoa brown, matching hose and shoes in a lighter shade make up a very charming costume.

Much interest centers around the sports hat, and naturally so, for here we may indulge our love for gay color without restraint. Among the favorite materials are braided straws and straws in plaid designs, mottled color effects and ombre crochet models that promise a very colorful season.

Charming New Pin Designs

Against the background of dark straw, or soft pastel felt nothing is more effective in the way of trimming than a well-designed jeweled pin. And new offerings are not only beautiful, but have the spice of novelty as well.

One simulates the quill motif in marbelized jade; new rhinestone pins combine crystal and frosted crystal, with their brilliants, and for the most part follow the pointed suggestion noted in so many hats. Ring and flat buckle trimmings appear in the form of tri-colored enamel designs in excellent taste for sports and tailored wear.

Ornaments of this type are worn thrust through the fabric of the hat at a fetching angle, and are lovely enough to carry unaided the entire burden of the trimming.

Spring Shoes of Classic Type

The unique is not present in the shaping of the new spring shoes which run true to type in the classic mold prescribing high, but not exaggerated, heels and the medium toes which are most becoming—and most comfortable—for the average foot.

The strap shoe is in great favor in practically all of its types; for walking and daytime wear new oxfords come well over the instep, with three eyelets for lacing—and no cut-outs. For afternoon the pump is, as always, most appropriate. For evening the newest shoe is the lightweight, high-heeled pump of plain black suede.
