BOLGER LOSES IN ELECTION CONTEST

Committee Fails to Recommend Matter Favorably; This Ends Case

It was indicated in Springfield last week that the special sub-committee of the state legislature investigating the election contest suit filed by Thomas Bolger, McHenry Democrat, against Representative Lee McDonough and Richard J. Lyons and N. L. Jackson, will recommend that the suit be dropped according to word received from the state capital. No confirmation of the report could be obtained and will probably not be obtainable until the committee submits its report next week.

Chairman David L. Swanson of the election contests committee of the house of representatives, announced that there would be a meeting of his group this week. At that time, the Green committee will make its report on the Bolger-Lyons election contest. The report is expected to recommend dismissal of Bolger's suit.

Check on Votes

Chairman LeRoy M. Green of Rockford and his special committee visited the secretary of state's office Wednesday afternoon to check the votes of the three disputed Lake county precincts. Mr. Green declared that his group would submit their report to the committee on election contests some time next week. He said that no announcements could be made before the committee meeting is held.

Thomas Bolger, the defeated candidate for representative on the Democratic ticket, has been working since the election last November to prove that he is rightly entitled to a place in the legislature as a representative of the eighth district. He claims that in three specific precincts straight Democratic tickets marked for Bolger resulted in a count of one vote for him instead of three. The difference, he believes, would result in his election over Lyons or McDonough.

A decision of the special sub-committee to recommend that the suit be dropped would result in failure for Bolger.

Favorable Periods for U. S. Motorists to Visit in Europe

In view of the fact that all indications point to a record number of Americans shipping their automobiles abroad and touring this year, the touring bureau of the Chicago Motor club today pointed out the best months in which to travel in old world countries. The information follows:

"British Isles—April to October. France, Germany, Holland, and Belgium have practically the same touring seasons, with splendid weather along the French Riviera during the winter months.

"In Switzerland, Italy, and Austria the passes are not open until well into June. Outside of the mountain regions very good weather prevails from the middle of April well into November, with winter touring in Southern Italy being very popular.

"Czechoslovakia and Hungary are best during the summer months and this is also true of Roumania, Bulgaria, Poland, and Jugo-Slavia. Along the Dalmatian coast, one can tour earlier but in the interior the roads do not become good until early summer.

"In southern Spain the spring comes early. The winter in the north is not pleasant until the end of April, although on the Cantabrian coast one can motor all year. Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and Finland are pleasant principally from May until fall. In North Africa the touring season is from October to May."

New Northbound Stop in Loop Is Announced

(April 25) all northbound North Shore Line trains will stop to receive passengers at Clark-Lake "L" station in the Chicago Loop, it is announced by John R. Blackhall, General manager. All southbound trains circling the Loop also will stop to discharge passengers at this point.

"This new North Shore Line station in the Chicago Loop is only one block from the Randolph Street Ri-alto," said Mr. Blackhall. "It has been established primarily with a view to affording theatre goers from North Shore communities greater convenience in boarding trains after the show. It also affords the public North Shore Line station facilities on the north side of the Loop for the first time.

Wilmette Woman Dies Here; Injured in Fall

Mrs. Nora Read of Wilmette died yesterday morning at the Highland Park hospital, where she was brought several days ago, suffering from effects of a fall from a window in Wilmette. She was not known in Highland Park, as far as learned.

The young folks say they are going out to battle with the world, but unless some of them fight harder at their job than they did in school, the world is in no great danger of getting licked.

Women Voters Watch Legislative Progress

Leagues of Women Voters throughout the state watch closely each move of the General Assembly on the bills with which they are concerned. Members of the various leagues have been going to Springfield every week in order to become familiar with the process of law-making.

One bill on their list has passed both Houses and been signed by the Governor. It is the bill which clarifies the compulsory school attendance law, combining three sections which deal with one part of the law and definitely re-establishing 16 years as the age until which school attendance is required. Practically all organizations concerned with the schools backed this measure.

Several league bills have passed one house or the other. The Senate has passed the women on juries bills, the motor drivers' license bill and the certification of teachers bills. The House has passed the bill to make the office of county surveyor appointive.

The House has amended the women on juries bills to provide for a referendum on them in November 1930. While the referendum on these bills seemed no more necessary than on any other bills the General Assembly passes, nevertheless those who have been working for women on juries welcome this recognition that the issue must be faced. As the Senate has already passed similar bills, it is probable that they will pass the House bills.
