Highwood Chamber of Commerce Addressed by State's Attorney

A very interesting and well attended meeting of the Highwood Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening, at which Col. A. V. Smith, state's attorney, was the principal speaker. Sheriff Doolittle and Mayor-Elect Raymond Roth of Highwood also were guests and spoke briefly.

Col. Smith spoke enthusiastically of the rapid growth and progress of the city of Highwood and predicted still greater advancement in the future. He declared that no city could prosper as fully as possible without the aid of an active chamber of commerce and he expressed gratification that Highwood has such a group whose activities are marked by vision and ambition for the welfare of their home city.

Mayor Roth said that the most important business of the new administration would be to see that Highwood should be provided with an adequate street lighting system. He felt that the new council would be one of the most harmonious in the political history of the city and looked forward to a period of progress and growth in the next two years.

Chief of Police Lester Tiffany of Lake Forest and several other out-of-town visitors were present at the meeting.

Refreshments were served following the program, and an enjoyable social hour was spent by those present.

Good Attractions at New Evanston Theatre

At the New Evanston theatre the Karl Way Players stock company which has been giving some very pleasing performances, are this week presenting the hilarious comedy, "The Dangerous Age" to large audiences. Next week the attraction at the New Evanston is Tommy Martelle, noted female impersonator, in the farce "Glorious Annabelle" with song hits and latest creations in gowns.

Writes May Day Play

Miss Dorothy Mayo of Sheridan place left for Virginia Saturday to spend a week at Hollins college and attend the May Day celebration which is one of the big events of the college year.

The May Day play or pageant is always written by one of the honor students of the senior class, and this year was written by Miss Mary Lou Mayo of Highland Park who is playing the leading part.

Girl Scouts

The last meeting held by Troop 3, at Lincoln school, was held on the 25th of April.

Some of the girls passed bandages and practiced signalling.

The song which was composed for the Mother and Daughter banquet was presented to the girls and received with enthusiasm.

Mrs. H. B. Gordon wishes to announce to her many customers, also the public at large that she is prepared to handle hemstitching as in the past in her new location, Garnett's store. 9pd
