Here is a distinct boost for the local fire department, as well as a matter of gratification to Highland Park property owners. It is shown in the following letter received by Judge A. E. Smith, head of the Central Insurance Service. The letter:

Highland Park, June 11, 1929

Editor

Highland Park Press

Residents of Highland Park, Deerfield and Highwood will no doubt be interested to know that there has been a reduction in the fire rates on dwellings, flats, tenements and apartment houses effective as of June 8th, 1929. Not applying to business written prior to June 8th, 1929. The rate reduction is $0.04 on a hundred on an annual basis and meaning of savings of $1.00 per $1000.00 on a three year basis on all fire insurance of the classes dwellings, flats, tenements and apartment houses on policies written after June 8th, 1929, except those dwellings, flats, tenements and apartment houses that are specifically rated because of hazardous location.

There is no doubt that the efficiency of the local Fire Department and the low loss ratio is responsible for this reduction.

Very truly yours,

TWO DEERFIELD MEN ACCIDENT VICTIMS

Lewis Oberrauch Found Dead
Tuesday; Wm. Schreiner
Killed Saturday

Lewis Oberrauch, 38, conductor of a filling station at Waukegan and County Line roads, and a resident of Deerfield, was found dead in his Ford car alongside Waukegan road about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. A fracture of the skull, a broken jaw and a bad cut in the neck, evidently from broken glass, were the wounds described at the inquest held about 11 o'clock Tuesday at the office of the H. M. Prior Co. There were indications that car had struck a tree, after wobbling off and on the road, indicating that the driver may have fallen asleep.

The verdict returned was that the man "came to his death from injuries received when the automobile he was driving left the road and struck a tree; we find that the accident occurred about 100 feet south of Hazel avenue, on Waukegan road, during the night of June 10, or early morning of June 11.

It was brought out at the inquest that Oberrauch had closed his station about 10 o'clock and drove north to visit another station where some tires were for sale. The operator at that station reported that the man had left there for home. He was not seen again, as far as known, until his body was found, and indications were that he had been dead some time.

There are living the widow and two daughters, Elsie, 20, and Clara, 12. The elder testified at the inquest as to the time her father closed the filing station and left.

Another Found Dead

William F. Schreiner, 60 years old, of Deerfield was found dead in a ditch along the Dundee road near Northbrook Saturday night, the victim, it is believed, of an automobile accident.

Firemen Called Out Three Times Monday

Fire in the General Market, in the Tone building, Central avenue, about 6:15 Monday evening was promptly extinguished by the fire department after damage of about $200 was done to fixtures, according to fire chief Hoskin. The origin of the fire is a matter of speculation. It is believed that the fireproof construction of the building prevented a more serious blaze.

On the same evening the firemen had a run to the Hugo Sonnenschein residence on Egandale road, where smoke from a fireplace had caused an alarm. No damage was done.

A small blaze caused Monday at the residence of L. L. Winters, Laurel avenue, while painters were burning off paint from the siding with a torch, was put out by the firemen before great damage was done. The flames had penetrated to the inside of the wall.
