

Local and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. John Hemmer, Mrs. Axel Nelson and son, Jack, and Mrs. Henry Boehmer of Chicago were the guests on Saturday of Mrs. Fred Fisher, Sr. of South Green Bay road. Mrs. Edward Sandman of Lake Zurich was the guest on Monday of Mrs. E. M. Conrad.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zipoy returned on Monday from Ironwood, Michigan, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. Zipoy's father, Mr. John Forslund. Mrs. Forslund returned to Highland Park with the Zipoy's and will remain here indefinitely.

Mrs. Theodore Osborn entertained a party of friends at luncheon at the Green Tea Pot on Wednesday. After luncheon bridge was enjoyed at Mrs. Osborn's home on Kincaid street.

Mrs. O. E. Keller and daughters, Dorothy and Eleanor, together with several school friends of the girls returned Monday from a ten days stay in New Auburn, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Leisenring and daughters, Dorothy and Virginia, are leaving tomorrow for their summer cabin near New Auburn, Wis. to remain for the summer.

ELIZABETH SILBER WORTH TEACHER OF PIANO

JAZZ CLASSICAL
Lee Sims Beginners
Method A Specialty
Residence, 623 Vine Avenue

Phone 3446
Lessons Given in Your Home

FOR FATHER'S DAY

CIGARS - PIPES
FOUNTAIN PENS - EVERSHPARP PENCILS BOOKS AND POCKET LIGHTERS

ALBERT LARSON

Stationer

Miss Charlotte Yoe and Miss Mary Williams returned home on Monday from Europe where they have spent the winter and have taken the Rev. Frank Fitt home for the summer.

Mrs. E. A. Smith left Wednesday for the east where she will attend a reunion of Smith college.

Mrs. William Rafferty is spending this week at her country home "Martindale Farm" on Ridge road.

Mr. John Anderson, who has been making his home with Mrs. Maurice Burkson on Vine left on Tuesday to join his daughter and family in Dayton, Ohio.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Martin Insull entertained at a very delightful bon voyage dinner in compliment to Mrs. James Martin and daughter, Miss Jane, who left on Wednesday for New York to sail shortly for a three months' stay in Europe. The dinner was given at the Insull country home "Orchard House" on Ridge road.

The teachers of Elm Place staff enjoyed a very delightful luncheon on Tuesday at the Green Tea Pot. There were thirty-four guests present.

Mrs. J. W. Simons entertained the members of her luncheon club at her home on Beach street Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Edward McLamore of Park Ridge was the guest a few days of last week of her cousin, Mrs. Arch Abercromby.

Mrs. George Bahr will entertain the members of her bridge club on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Edgar Winterson of S. Green Bay road.

The Friday Night Bridge club will meet tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Helen C. Golden of 122 McGovern street.

The Philathea class of the Bethany Evangelical church will meet Tuesday evening with Miss Charlotte Brand of Deerfield.

Miss Verna Griesmeyer who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Highland Park hospital recently is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Slayback entertained eight guests at dinner on Tuesday followed by bridge.

Mrs. Leif Norman, now of Winnetka, entertained the members of her sewing club on Wednesday. The members are all Highland Park girls.

Mary Smith of S. Sheridan road entertained nineteen of her school friends at a graduation party on Saturday evening. Dancing and bunco were the features of the evening.

The marriage of Miss Frances Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Luther Holbrook of Highland Park, and Morris Mead Montgomery of Evanston was solemnized at 8:30 last evening at St. Chrysostom's church. The ceremony was followed by a reception and supper at the Woman's Athletic club. The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with rose point lace and pearl embroidery with a long train falling from the waistline and a flowing tulle veil fastened with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor, Miss Frieda Keeney of New York, wore blue chiffon over lavender. The bridesmaids included Miss Marion Olcott, Miss Alida Marsh, Miss Dorothy Simpson, and Miss Elizabeth George. They were gowned in various shades of green taffeta and green horsehair hats and held clusters of blue larkspur. John M. Montgomery was best man for the groom and the ushers were Thomas I. Underwood, Austin Pickard, Scott Green, Roger Engeberg, Richard Starr and Wiley Glass.

The marriage of Miss Frances Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Luther Holbrook of Highland Park, and Morris Mead Montgomery of Evanston was solemnized at 8:30 last evening at St. Chrysostom's church. The ceremony was followed by a reception and supper at the Woman's Athletic club. The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with rose point lace and pearl embroidery with a long train falling from the waistline and a flowing tulle veil fastened with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor, Miss Frieda Keeney of New York, wore blue chiffon over lavender. The bridesmaids included Miss Marion Olcott, Miss Alida Marsh, Miss Dorothy Simpson, and Miss Elizabeth George. They were gowned in various shades of green taffeta and green horsehair hats and held clusters of blue larkspur. John M. Montgomery was best man for the groom and the ushers were Thomas I. Underwood, Austin Pickard, Scott Green, Roger Engeberg, Richard Starr and Wiley Glass.

The marriage of Miss Frances Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Luther Holbrook of Highland Park, and Morris Mead Montgomery of Evanston was solemnized at 8:30 last evening at St. Chrysostom's church. The ceremony was followed by a reception and supper at the Woman's Athletic club. The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with rose point lace and pearl embroidery with a long train falling from the waistline and a flowing tulle veil fastened with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor, Miss Frieda Keeney of New York, wore blue chiffon over lavender. The bridesmaids included Miss Marion Olcott, Miss Alida Marsh, Miss Dorothy Simpson, and Miss Elizabeth George. They were gowned in various shades of green taffeta and green horsehair hats and held clusters of blue larkspur. John M. Montgomery was best man for the groom and the ushers were Thomas I. Underwood, Austin Pickard, Scott Green, Roger Engeberg, Richard Starr and Wiley Glass.

The marriage of Miss Frances Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Luther Holbrook of Highland Park, and Morris Mead Montgomery of Evanston was solemnized at 8:30 last evening at St. Chrysostom's church. The ceremony was followed by a reception and supper at the Woman's Athletic club. The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with rose point lace and pearl embroidery with a long train falling from the waistline and a flowing tulle veil fastened with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor, Miss Frieda Keeney of New York, wore blue chiffon over lavender. The bridesmaids included Miss Marion Olcott, Miss Alida Marsh, Miss Dorothy Simpson, and Miss Elizabeth George. They were gowned in various shades of green taffeta and green horsehair hats and held clusters of blue larkspur. John M. Montgomery was best man for the groom and the ushers were Thomas I. Underwood, Austin Pickard, Scott Green, Roger Engeberg, Richard Starr and Wiley Glass.

The marriage of Miss Frances Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Luther Holbrook of Highland Park, and Morris Mead Montgomery of Evanston was solemnized at 8:30 last evening at St. Chrysostom's church. The ceremony was followed by a reception and supper at the Woman's Athletic club. The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with rose point lace and pearl embroidery with a long train falling from the waistline and a flowing tulle veil fastened with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor, Miss Frieda Keeney of New York, wore blue chiffon over lavender. The bridesmaids included Miss Marion Olcott, Miss Alida Marsh, Miss Dorothy Simpson, and Miss Elizabeth George. They were gowned in various shades of green taffeta and green horsehair hats and held clusters of blue larkspur. John M. Montgomery was best man for the groom and the ushers were Thomas I. Underwood, Austin Pickard, Scott Green, Roger Engeberg, Richard Starr and Wiley Glass.

The marriage of Miss Frances Holbrook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Luther Holbrook of Highland Park, and Morris Mead Montgomery of Evanston was solemnized at 8:30 last evening at St. Chrysostom's church. The ceremony was followed by a reception and supper at the Woman's Athletic club. The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with rose point lace and pearl embroidery with a long train falling from the waistline and a flowing tulle veil fastened with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor, Miss Frieda Keeney of New York, wore blue chiffon over lavender. The bridesmaids included Miss Marion Olcott, Miss Alida Marsh, Miss Dorothy Simpson, and Miss Elizabeth George. They were gowned in various shades of green taffeta and green horsehair hats and held clusters of blue larkspur. John M. Montgomery was best man for the groom and the ushers were Thomas I. Underwood, Austin Pickard, Scott Green, Roger Engeberg, Richard Starr and Wiley Glass.

H. P. Girl Is Graduate Smith College, June 17

Miss Olga Beneke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beneke of 171 Laurel avenue, Highland Park, will receive her A.B. degree at the annual Commencement exercises at Smith college, June 17. Miss Beneke prepared for college at Rosemary hall, Greenwich, Conn. Her major subject is history.

These are said to be fast moving times, but you would never know it by the time it takes a lot of folks to pay their bills.

Formerly the American people used to fight valiantly for their rights, but in these bad acting days, they seem more determined to hold on to their wrongs.

Man Found Wounded in Home; Suicide Attempt Is Belief of Police

With a bullet wound in his chest Frank Gonder, 40 year old carpenter, was saved from death in his home at 1625 Burton avenue, Highland Park, Sunday when a second shot, fired at his head, was heard by a telephone operator who heard the shot, after the telephone had been overturned on the floor, according to the police.

While Gonder declares that someone walked into his house, shot twice at him and then walked out, the police of Highland Park maintain that he had attempted suicide as his gun, with two shots fired, was found in the piano in his home, and several other discharged shells were lying about.

Sergt. Martin Kopp, who was called, reports that Mrs. Minerva Gonder, his wife, a clerk to a ticket agent for the North Shore Line at Glencoe, had left her husband last Thursday and that there had been considerable domestic trouble of late because Gonder had taken to drinking. Three quart bottles, emptied of wine, and a full quart bottle of home-brew, or the like, were found on the table in the room where Gonder was found shot, the police report.

At the Highland Park hospital where Gonder was taken by police after Miss Ellen Udee, telephone operator at Highland Park, had called them when she heard the shot fired, physicians told the police that Gonder would recover although he would certainly have died from loss of blood had not quick attention been given his wounds.

The theory of the shooting according to the police, Gonder probably drank his wine and then, brooding over his domestic troubles, shot himself in the chest and as he fell, knocked the telephone off the table. The police said he then shot at his own head, the bullet just grazing the scalp and it was this shot that the phone operator heard.

The police believe that after the shooting, Gonder was able to make his way to the piano and hide the gun in the customary place. The Gonders have two daughters, 13 and 8 years old, the younger of whom lived with the father until recently when Mrs. Gonder took her to Chicago, the police say.

Elm Place Teachers All Members of N.E.A.

All the teachers of the Elm Place school, Highland Park, Illinois, have again taken membership in the National Education association. This announcement was made at the association's headquarters in Washington, by J. W. Crabtree, secretary, who had received the enrollment record from the principal, according to a bulletin sent from the office in the National Capital.

This announcement of one hundred per cent enrollment represents the teachers who have enrolled for the second consecutive year.

In a congratulatory letter to Principal Lena Nixon, Mr. Crabtree says: "We are proud of your one hundred per cent enrollment. It shows a fine leadership on your part and an excellent professional spirit on the part of your teachers. Congratulations to you all and success in your work for the cause of education."

COLD AIR FUR STORAGE

WE HAVE OUR STORAGE VAULT IN OUR OWN BUILDING
Reasonable Charges

CLEANING - GLAZING
and REPAIRING AT SPRING and SUMMER
PRICES on YOUR FURS

Estimates Gladly Given

MOLDANER & HUMER

16 North Sheridan Road

FURRIERS

We Call for and Deliver

Phone Highland Park 54