GUEST PROGRAM OF THE H. P. MUSIC CLUB

To Be Given in Presbyterian Church Wednesday Afternoon, June 26

The open guest program of the Highland Park Music club, which will be given at 2:30, Wednesday, June 26 at the Presbyterian church, offers a rare treat to all lovers of good music.

Grace Leach Orcutt, a member of the Musicians club and officer in several other musical organizations, is not only a pianist and organist of note, but a composer as well. She will play some of her own compositions as her last group.

The choral, which consists of about twenty-five members of the Music club was organized and is directed by Mrs. Vance. This group which has done some very splendid things and appeared on several public programs will present Gounod's Gallia, a composition for chorus and solos. Mrs. Orcutt and Mrs. Paul Downing, accompanying.

Mrs. Walter Livingston Vance, a soprano, who does considerable professional work will sing a group, accompanied by Grace Leach Orcutt at the organ, Marie Hammer at the piano and Louise Silber, violin.

Mrs. Rhoda Yule, a contralto completes the program with a very lovely group accompanied by Mrs. Marie Hammer at the piano.

The Highland Park Music club is very proud of the musical ability of its members and cordially invites the public to be present at this meeting. The following is the program in detail:

Mrs. Walter Livingston Vance, soprano.
Mrs. Rhoda Yule, contralto.
Grace Leach Orcutt, organist.
Miss Louise Silber, violinist.
The Highland Park Music Club Choral, under leadership of Mrs. Walter Livingston Vance.

St. James School at Highwood Graduation Exercises on Sunday

The most charming graduation in St. James' brief history occurred last Sunday morning, when to the soft strains of the organ, three boys, each preceded by a tiny white-clad flower-bearer, and seven girls, preceded by wee young misses dressed in the class colors of blue and gold, filed slowly up the center aisle. The class colors were in evidence in the long chiffon pew-markers, in the tall baskets at the base of the orange-blossomed arch, in the large bows that graced the arm bouquets of yellow roses, and in the daintily be-ribboned diplomas.

St. James' sanctuary was radiant. The main altar was appropriately banked in spotless white peonies, the generous donations of Mrs. Dooley, Mrs. Schuette, Mrs. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Mahoney. Garlands of mock-orange festooned the pillars above the altar and the slender archway over the center gates. These were the gifts of Mrs. Walsh and Mrs. Bergdahl. Each of the side altars was massed in pink peonies. All of the altars were aglow with candles and soft-burning vigil lights.

The opening words of the mass were singularly fitting—"The Lord Is the Protector of My Life, My Heart Shall Not Fear." At its close the white-clad servers moved into place, the table upon which rested the coveted diplomas. They also assisted the pastor, Rev. J. P. Holley, in selecting them as the 1929 class, accompanied by their flower-bearers, passed beneath the arch into the sanctuary to receive them. The following are the honored graduates, in the order in which they were given their diplomas: Leo Fortunato, James Golden, John Schaefer, Louise Leonardi, Martha Wisdom, Margaret Seigle, Marie Cantagallo, Catherine Mahoney, Mary Smith and Elaine Berberick. Father Holley, in his inspiring exhortation to the graduates, stressed fidelity to the high ideals of Catholic manhood and womanhood, to the teachings and inspirations of their school days—fidelity to God, to duty, to prayer, to personal purity, and to their teachers, the Sisters of Loretto.

Only one shadow fell across the day's rejoicing. Their well-loved teacher was absent, called to her father's death-bed. The deep sympathy of both parents and pupils is hers in her sorrow.

Benediction followed, and thus the young people ended their year as they had begun it—before the altar

H. P. Cricket Club Is Defeated at Evanston; Play Here Sunday Next

Playing the first game of the season away from home, the Highland Park Cricket club was defeated by the narrow margin of five runs by the Chicago Cricket club, at Evanston, on Sunday, June 16. The game was excellent in every way, and Highland Park made a close bid for victory. Fred Hull, who made his initial appearance of the season for the local club, made top score of 24 for Highland Park.

The details follow, the final score being 86 to 81 in favor of Chicago.

Important Meeting of Legion County Council

N. E. Hewitt, a member of the government intelligence department working out of Chicago headquarters and in charge of the investigation of soviet propaganda being disseminated in United States, will be the speaker at the Lake County council meeting of the American Legion at the Waukegan Armory on Friday evening, June 21.

Hewitt speaks from actual evidence gained against the Soviets and reveals how the Soviet Russian government works among lower labor classes and among children to build up their strength in America. Their operations are being conducted in every civilized country in the world.

The meeting is open to the public, special invitations being extended to professional men throughout the county, civic organizations, ministerial associations, labor unions and all others interested.

Arch Masons Meet

The regular meeting of Highland Park chapter No. 226, R. A. M., will meet next Wednesday, June 26, at 7:30 o'clock. The Royal Arch degree will be conferred on a candidate.

FT. SHERIDAN HORSE SHOW JULY 12 & 13

Annual Affair to Be Best Ever
Held on Post; Local People Interested

The fifth annual Fort Sheridan Horse Show, to be held in the outdoor ring at the Post on Friday and Saturday, July 12th and 13th, with morning and afternoon sessions each day, promises to be one of the outstanding shows of the middle west. Given for the double benefit of the Army Relief society and the School fund for Post children, the show this year will have thirty-five classes, of which seven will be distinctly military.

More than three thousand dollars will be distributed in plate and cash prizes. A featured award will be that for the 1929 Grand Hunter championship of the North Shore Horse Show circuit. This prize is being donated by the combined enlisted personnel of Fort Sheridan.

Thirty-five Classes

The thirty-five classes include, in addition to the seven military, nine hunters, five jumpers, three children, four polo and seven saddle classes. The judges will be Major E. Grove Cullum, of Washington, D. C., for the hunters and jumpers; Lt. Col. Nelson Margetts, of Chicago, for military classes; Mr. Walter Palmer, of Detroit, for saddle classes; and Major Frederic McLaughlin, of Lake Forest, for the polo classes.

The Fort Sheridan Horse Show association, headed by General C. H. Conrad, Jr., includes in its membership, as associate directors, Messrs. Laurance H. Armour, Otto W. Lehmann, Chauncey McCormick, Col. T. A. Siqueland, Judge C. N. Goodwin, Fred Pabst, C. Colton Daughaday, C. Groverman Elils. Honorary members are Messrs. Austin H. Niblack, Wm. Wrigley, Jr., Col. Noble B. Judah, Col. R. R. McCormick, Col. A. A. Sprague, Benjamin L. Behr, Eugene V. Byfield, G. A. Strom, Major Frederic McLaughlin, Col. Geo. T. Langhorne, Lt. Col. Irving Odell, Lt. Col. Laurence B. Robbins, Lawrence H. Whiting and Gen. R. E. Wood.

Society Affair

More than fifty prominent members of society in Chicago, Lake Forest, and Highland Park are patronesses for the show. The complete list shows Mesdames B. F. Affleck, Jacob Bauer, Benjamin Leslie Behr, William McCormick Blair, John Borden, Joseph T. Bowen, Walter S. Brewster, Fred A. Britten, Lowell M. Chapin, Henry B. Clark, Arthur W. Cox, Joseph M.
