

Camp Meeting Begins At Desplaines; This Week; Opening Friday

For the seventieth consecutive year, the great Methodist Camp meeting opens its annual session at the Des Plaines grounds this week Friday, with Bishop E. L. Waldorf as the first speaker. The meeting continues to and including Sunday, July 14, with four Bishops and many eminent ministers and laymen on the program.

There are daily morning, afternoon and evening sessions to which the public is invited. The musical features are also very attractive. The past few years have witnessed great crowds at these sessions and enlarged provision has been made for parking space for the thousands of autos present. A very large open air swimming pool is a new feature this year, costing over $35,000; there are also other recreational features and special programs for children in charge of trained leaders. A fine hotel, new dining room, restaurant, grocery, etc., together with the hundreds of cottages, provide for every need.

Next Sunday Bishop Edgar Blake, fresh from his European field, preaches in the morning, and Bishop Edwin H. Hughes in the great evening meeting in the Tabernacle which seats over 1500 people, with hundreds more usually standing about outside.

Speed Limit on State Roads Now 45 Miles

Lake county motorists and other auto drivers using the county's highways will be allowed greater freedom hereafter when they wheel along the roadways outside of the corporate limits of the various cities.

Forty-five miles an hour became the official speed limit on Illinois highways at midnight last night as the result of recent legislative action.

The bill passed by the assembly changes the speed limit from 35 miles an hour, which, it was figured, was too slow a pace for cars on open highways.

The 45 miles an hour limit was a compromise rate set by the legislature after calls had been made for limits ranging from 40 miles an hour to no limit whatever.

Continuance Granted In Extortion Hearing

Constable John Marsh of Highland Park, charged with extortion in connection with the payment of $200 in marked money by Marco Salbago, was given a continuance of one week when the case was called before Justice of the Peace A. E. Smith in Highland Park Tuesday, Marsh, who is out under a $1,000 bond, is charged with having demanded payment from Salbago, who had Officer Driscoll of the Highland Park police "planted" in his house when Marsh came to collect. Marsh, according to the Highland Park police, threatened to turn Salbago over to States Attorney A. V. Smith if he didn't pay $200.

A remarkable collection of the famous Navaho blankets is on exhibition in the department of anthropology at Field Museum of Natural History.

To Lay Cornerstone of Marshall Field's Store in Evanston

With the structural steel framework rapidly nearing completion, the cornerstone of the Evanston Marshall Field store will be laid with appropriate ceremony Wednesday, July 10, at 10:30.

Leaders in the business and social life of the city and other north shore suburbs, Evanston city officials, chamber of commerce executives and other prominent citizens will participate in the rites, according to Ronald Boardman, who is manager of the Evanston store, now housed in the Carlson annex.

Thomas H. Eddy, treasurer of Field's and an Evanstonian, will lay the cornerstone and other Field officials who will be present include David M. Yates, vice president and general manager of the downtown retail store; Frederick D. Corley and W. G. Burt, vice presidents; G. R. Schaeffer, sales promotion manager, and R. F. Starr, superintendent of maintenance. Ernest R. Graham of Graham Anderson, Probst and White, the architectural firm which had the designing of the building in charge, is also to be present.

Mayor Charles H. Bartlett will formally welcome Field's to Evanston on behalf of the city and its neighbors to the north. Prominent guests will be Dean Ralph E. Heilman of the Northwestern university school of commerce, President C. D. Hardy of the Evanston Chamber of Commerce, Chief William O. Freeman of the local police department, Fire Marshal A. N. Hofstetter, heads of civic clubs, bank presidents and others.

Copies of the Evanston Review, the Wilmette Life, the Winnetka Talk, the Glencoe News, the Lake Forester, the Highland Park Press, the Evanston News-Index and Chicago newspapers; literature giving the outstanding facts in Field's history and other historical data will be placed in the Stone. The silver trowel wielded by Treasurer Eddy will be preserved in the finished building.

The growth of the Evanston branch of the big Chicago store has been rapid. Established Sept. 13, 1928, as an infants' and children's apparel shop housed in a small temporary building on the southwest corner of Hinman avenue and Davis street, it was moved Nov. 1 to larger quarters in the Carlson annex and the scope of the stock was enlarged to include misses' wear. A room for boys' apparel was added Dec. 1 and Feb. 4 the second floor of the annex was taken over and women's wear and accessories added.

The new store will be completed in the fall, according to present plans.

Enrollment in Boy Scout Summer Camp Is Growing Steadily

Karl D. King, 914 Greenwood avenue, Wilmette, president of the north shore area council of the Boy Scouts of America, reports that the enrollment for Camp Ma-Ka-Ja-Wan, the new council training camp at Elcho, Wisconsin, has exceeded all expectations. As a result Mr. King announces the camp will be held open for an additional period of two weeks sessions on the following dates,

July 5th—July 20th, July 9th—August 3rd, and August 2—August 17th. Paid reservations are in the council headquarters for 100 scouts each for the first and second sessions and only a very few places remain for the third session. Hence the decision of the executive board of the council to open a fourth session to run from August 16th—August 31st to allow other scouts to attend, particularly, those who are in summer school and cannot take advantage of the earlier sessions. The fourth session, however, will be contingent upon at least sixty scouts enrolling by not later than the last of July.

Mr. King, says the camp is in complete running order and ready to receive the first group of 100 who will leave for camp on Friday, July 5th. The north shore area council is comprised of the communities of Wilmette, Kenilworth, Winnetka, Hubbard Woods, Glencoe, Ravinia, Highland Park, Highwood Lake Forest, Glenview, Northbrook, Deerfield, Bannockburn, Libertyville, Mundelein and Diamond Lake. Last year 150 scouts attended the Chicago camp, but since the council has started its own camp, the registrations to date indicate an increase of over 100 per cent for 1929. Further increases are expected for succeeding years as the scouts bring back the news to their comrades about this wonderful north woods camp.

Vacation School Edits Paper; Other Features Of Interest Are Noted

Last week the pupils of the Vacation Church school held in the parish house of the Presbyterian church edited a paper telling of the various things which each department did and some of the plans for the next week. Each week such a paper will be printed. An editor and a reporter is chosen each week from each department and this group with the assistance of Miss Greenlaw gets up the paper. The children enjoy this sort of thing and it informs the parents of the work being done in the school.

Last week the nurse reported no colds or signs of illness, but a number of children have remained at home this week with slight colds. The children are kept out of doors as much as possible and every precaution is taken for the health of your child. We appreciate very much the co-operation which the parents have given us in this project.

The staff of the school is unusually good and we feel that we are able to give the very best instruction. The following persons are conducting the work: Kindergarten, Miss Unnis Cobb, principal; Miss Jean Barnet and Miss Sally Washburn, assistants; primary, Mrs. Wm. Pearce, principal; Mrs. M. D. Kenoyer and Miss Enid Pearce, assistants; Junior, Mrs. Carl McManus, principal; Miss Elsie Watkins and Miss Greenlaw, assistants. Mrs. M. D. Kenoyer is our nurse and Miss Enid Pearce has charge of the music in the Kindergarten and Primary departments. Miss Greenlaw is the director of the school.

Each day brings new pupils and the enrollment is about 60. Children of all faiths are welcome to attend. The enrollment fee is nominal and if you desire to enroll your child for the remainder of the school, we shall be happy to receive him. The school is held each morning from 9:00 until 11:30, excepting Saturday and Sunday, and is the only standard Vacation Church school in this vicinity, both because of its duration and the type of work completed. The school began on June 24th and will continue until July 26th.
