Supervisors Considering Means to Utilize Fund from Gasoline Tax

Though Chicago's gas tax fund disposition will be determined by 28 business and civic leaders appointed as a special committee, Lake county will look to its board of supervisors for the decision on the expenditure of its portion of the tax which will be collected under the new law effective Aug. 1.

The road and bridge committee will probably take the matter up at its meetings and then refer the proposition to the board as a whole for confirmation and approval.

It is highly possible that the action as planned under the other gas tax measure which was declared unconstitutional will be followed out this time. This was in the way of a $1,029,000 bond issue for the county.

The board had already approved the placing of the bond issue before the people when the tax law was thrown out. When this act was nullified the bond issue was not pushed further.

Would Pave 35 Miles

The success of the $1,029,000 issue, according to R. M. Lobbell, county superintendent of highways, would allow the paving of 35 miles of roadway in Lake county.

When taking the matter under consideration the board could decide to put the issue before the people with the idea in mind of retiring the bonds and paying interest with the payments derived from the gas tax.

The first allocation of tax money will not be available for the county until after the first of next year under the working of the state tax plan. Then, it is said, the tax gas payments are to be made to counties twice a year, about Jan. 1 and June 30.

If the bond issue plan is not decided upon by the board it is possible to construct roads in the county on the "pay as you go along" plan. The paving would be put in as the tax funds become available instead of getting the large sum at once as would follow the success of the bond issue at an election.

Complete Surveys

Decision on the matter is somewhat distant but the highway department and the committee are completing plans and surveys in order to be ready in case the bond plan is approved. This preparation naturally would do away with considerable delay and would result in the presenting of an up-to-the-minute program when the decision is made.

Unusually fine garments and excellent decorative work with porcupine quills, representing the achievements of the northern Athapascan Indians of the Yukon Valley, are features of an exhibit at Field Museum of Natural History.

Fern and flower-like forms in rocks, deposited by water seeping through cracks, often become objects of great beauty. A collection of these works of nature, known as dendrites, is on exhibition at Field Museum of Natural History, in the department of geology.
