Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all who were so kind to me in my hour of sorrow and bereavement.

Mrs. H. R. Syson.

Many people who are losing money in foolish speculations, will soon be complaining because they lack their fair share of wealth.

EVER SINCE 1842

Stephen F. Whitman and his son have been making those wonderful candies that make Philadelphia famous. And they made them good to start with and every day by day in every way they have made them better and better until there is simply no chance for any further improvement, and we wish to impress upon you that whenever you buy a box of candy with Mister Whitman's name on the lid, you can be very sure you have not made a faux pas.

Moral: When you reach for Whitman's you're always lucky.
