Child Dies of Lockjaw Resulting from Wounds

A victim of lockjaw caused by infection of a wound which he received in one hand from the accidental discharge of a toy pistol, a week before, Clifford Willett, 9-year-old son of Mrs. Gladys McCammon of Antioch, died in the Lake County hospital at 5 o'clock Saturday morning.

The boy was in a semi-conscious condition for several days before death ended his suffering.

The wound which resulted in lockjaw was inflicted on July 26, while the boy and several companions were firing blank cartridges from toy pistols, which they had purchased from a mail order house.

Infection developed in the wound several days after the injury and the boy was hurried to the Lake County hospital for treatment. The tetanus poisoning had spread through the system of the youth, however, before he was taken to the hospital for attention and attending physicians held no hope for his recovery.

Victim of an Explosion Is Saved by Telephone

A telephone was the means recently of saving the life of Edwin Davis of Fouts Springs, Cal. Davis lives all by himself at a lonely mountain resort. He mistook some gasoline for kerosene and, using it in an attempt to get a fire started, was severely burned about the body, arms and hands. If it had not been for his telephone there would have been no way for him to communicate with the forest ranger at Mill Creek. Although suffering greatly, the man succeeded in making his way to the telephone and, as a result, the ranger came and took him to the nearest town for medical attention.

The question who is the meekest man in the Bible, is discussed in Sunday school, but he wasn't any meekest than the average man who is hauled up by a traffic cop.
