

Paying Paul's Bills with Peter's Money

Whenever you write a check for more money than you have on deposit, you are asking us to pay your bills with your neighbors' money. The money we have does not belong to us; it is really the property of the folks of this community who have entrusted it to us for safekeeping.

It isn't fair to your neighbors, to us or to yourself to overdraw your account. There is no quicker way to impair your credit standing. Keep a liberal balance on deposit at all times, to take care of all checks your write.
