Fur Plays an Active Part in Modes

Never before in history have coats been so lavishly trimmed with fur as in the present season.

Fur Everyplace! The luxury and warmth of fur is cleverly interpreted in our new fall and winter models with unusual charm. Foxes of all descriptions are used in all the popular colorings; Badger, a selected creamy fur that is flattering and pleasing; sable, stone and baum marten; mink, kolinsky, fitz, squirrel, summer ermine, chinchilla-rat, caracul galyak, kid, lapin, mink-dyed and natural muskrat beaver,—all these are used for trimming furs. Usually, the trimming fur is used to form a markedly contrasting effect. Fur accomplishes all sorts of novel trimming ideas in the shapes of flares, tiers, tunics, godets, borders, bandings, and patches. In fact, the more that fur is used, the smarter becomes the model this year.
