

COLOR SCHEME FOR HOUSE OF STUCCO

Variety of Shades Which Aid in Beautifying Dwelling With This Exterior

The rough texture of stucco is so decorative in itself that the home builder who chooses this very satisfactory building material is often content to let it remain as it is without any further enhancement. But painting stucco opens up a much wider range of exterior color combinations and an opportunity to make your home quite different from neighboring houses that are constructed of the same material.

The color scheme for a stucco dwelling should depend largely on the architectural lines of the house. If you are planning to build a house of Italian style, the colors will of course be gayer than for the more sedate English type of dwelling. Coral pink with a trim of robin's egg blue, or cream with bright terra cotta shutters and roof, are suitable combinations for the little villa, while stone gray with apple green, or tan with maroon, will be more in keeping with Anglo Saxon dignity. For the house that reflects no particular period, there is of course a much larger selection.

Smooths Surface

In addition to its color value, the paint will smooth down the jagged points of the stucco and make it less receptive to dirt and dust. It will also give added durability to the surface, as the oil in the priming coat thoroughly penetrates the stucco and prevents any possible entrance of moisture.

Another touch of decoration may be added by the use of stencil designs. Often a blank wall needs just a bit of ornamentation in contrasting color to give it more character, and a two-tone border stenciled along the top will supply the necessary amount of relief. If your house has a dormer window, a large motif in several colors will be an effective mode of decoration. Such treatments as these are so distinctive that they may be employed to take the place of structural details, thus lowering the cost of construction very considerably.

Rock Garden Exhibit Attracts Wide Attention

The unique and novel display in the Chas. Kapschull real estate office window on Deerfield road is attracting considerable attention and calling forth many complimentary remarks.

It was the work of Franken Bros. and is in the form of a miniature rock garden, which reflects the art of landscaping. Forming a lovely background for the garden are tiny evergreens and spruce trees, while in the center there is a pool.

In the evening colored light flashes over the scene intermittently, producing quite a charming effect.

Equally attractive is the seasonal Halloween scene sketched in the Kit Kat Kitchen window with the colorful background of pumpkins, cats and clumps of cornshocks.

The young people can apparently be rendered immune from all contagious diseases except love.

Arrest Is Aftermath of Fatal Air Crash

As a result of the air collision over Northbrook on September 15, in which Mrs. Mildred Bird of Highland Park, and William Johnson of Deerfield were killed, along with the pilots of the two colliding planes, Jack Faulkner of the Monarch Aircraft company of Rockford, was arrested late last week by Maj. Ralph Royce the air policeman of Cook county.

Faulkner is being held without bond at the Morton Grove police station on the charge of teaching flying without a license. According to testimony given at the Northbrook tragedy inquest, Faulkner and another man known as Van Tefel, gave flying lessons to Charles Krohn, the pilot of the plane that caused the mid-air crash.

Many Accidents Occur at Home, Report Shows

Safe at home! How often do we hear that remark? And yet, are we safe? Statistics of the large insurance companies prove the contrary. One company recently reported that during the past five years nearly 19 per cent of its claims were paid on account of accidents occurring within the home.

Of course there are many causes for these accidents. One insurance company alone paid out in the past five years $197,287.87, covering 1,572 accidents from falls on rugs and floors. And most of these accidents could have been easily prevented by an article well known among dealers as "rug anchor." It is a special kind of coated fabric that is put underneath rugs, and keeps them from slipping.

Great minds are said to run in the same channel, and judging by the way many of the aforesaid minds around here get stuck, the channel needs dredging out.

Frigidaire Sales in 1929 Record So Far

Frigidaire household sales in the first eight months of 1929 numbered 114,367 more than in the corresponding period of last year, dealers and salesmen from the Chicago sales district were told at a meeting at the Sherman hotel last week. Mr. E. E. Levy, president of Stover Co., local distributors, presided over the conference.

"Seventy per cent of all government electrical refrigeration business went to Frigidaire corporation during that period," Mr. Levy said. At the same time, Frigidaire was the successful bidder on 80 per cent of all electrically refrigerated ice cream cabinets. The ice cream industry so far has purchased $75,000,000 worth of Frigidaire products, he said.

YOUR Finest China Is Safe in the Conover Electric Dishwasher

The wire racks of the Conover hold each plate, each cup and glass securely in place so they cannot chip or crack. Dishes are safer in the Conover than in the dishpan, for there is less handling. You simply arrange them in the upper and lower racks of the machine. The next time you touch them is when you remove them, clean, sparkling and dry. A special basket holds the silver.
