Man Badly Bitten
by Own Police Dog

Attacked by his own police dog Saturday night, in his home on Bronson lane, a man, whose name on the police blotter is given as Potter, was severely bitten, according to the police report. He was taken to the hospital for treatment. The report said that his arms, legs and body were badly bitten. According to the story told the police Potter had entered his son's bedroom and the dog ran from under the bed and attacked him.

The little boy's definition may be right, at that, when he intimated that "dictation" is what a man takes from his wife and gives to his stenographer. —Savannah News.

Plan New Curriculum for Deerfield-Shields

In a year or two Deerfield-Shields high school may have an entirely different curriculum. In order to make the Deerfield-Shields scholastic course the best possible, the faculty of the school, assisted by Professor John Stout, dean of the school of education at Northwestern university, plans to make a revision of the course of study now being used.

"The object," says Mr. Sandwick, "is to make sure that we are studying the best and most worthwhile courses in our English, French, history, or science."

Nearly all of the subjects now being taught in this school can cover much more ground than they do at present, if the curriculum is but revised, according to Mr. Sandwick. It is the aim of the faculty to discover along with Professor Stout just what can be done to make the courses the very best possible, in keeping with the standards of the most advanced high schools in America.
