Recent plays in print:

The reading of contemporary plays is testified to by the increase in the a problem, in mind. annual number of current dramas which are printed in book form. Certainly the Pulitzer Prize play is as much a part of contemporary literature as the Pulitzer Prize Novel. "Journey's End" is as fine a piece of writing as has been done this year in any branch of literature.

The following is a list of more or less current-or at least recent-interest:

Behold, the Bridgegroom, G. E. Bird in Hand, J. Drinkwater. Caponsacchi, A. F. Goodrich and

R. A. Palmer. Camel Through the Needle's Eye,

F. Langer. Caprice, G. Silberer (Sil-Vara). Coquette, G. Abbott and

Bridgers. High Road, F. Lonsdale. Holiday, P. Barry. Journey's End, R. C. Sheriff. Kingdom of God, G. Martinez Sierra. Last of Mrs. Cheney, F. Lonsdale. Let Us Be Gay, F. Lonsdale. Paris Bound, R. Crothers. Plays, J. Galsworthy.

Road to Rome, R. E. Sherwood. Royal Family, G. S. Kaufman and E. Ferber.

Six Plays, Belasco. Strange Interlude, E. G. O'Neill. Street Scene, E. L. Rice. Trial of Mary Dugan, B. Veiller.

"All Quiet"

The novel of Erich Remarque, "All Quiet on the Western Front, has been banned in Austria. Austrian soldiers will not be allowed to read it. Karl Vaugoin, Defense Minister, says, "The Ministry finds that the book is calculated to impair the military qualities of our recruits. It emphasizes only the shady side of war, while treating all the soldiery virtues | Lloyd Lewis. skeptically. The Ministry is not concerned with the literary value of the book."

Paradoxically enough, this might be considered a vital tribute to the book whose entirely underlying significance is the moral outlawry of war.

A Skillful Reader

1. Reads with a definite purpose,

2. Grasps the author's point of view and central theme.

3. Lays hold of the order and arrangement of the author's ideas.

4. Pauses occasionally for summarizing and repeating. 5. Constantly asks questions of his reading. 6. Continually supplements from his own mental stock. he reads.

8. Varies the rate of his progress through the reading.

9. Ties up what he reads with problems of his own.

Library and Lecturers

Q. E. Rolvaag, who is to speak in Highland Park on November 19 has written two books which are well worth reading before hearing him. They are Giants in the Earth and Peder Victorious.

New Russia, by Mrs. Sinclair Lewis, (Dorothy Thompson,) who appears in the city on November 5, is the title of her latest book which was published last year after spending considerable time in Russia.

Tom Talmadge is well known to many Highland Park residents. His book on Modern Architecture has been in constant demand at the library and his talk on November 18 is greatly anticipated.

Why should COMFORT ask favors of STYLE?

TEXT to the style supremacy of the Selby Arch Preserver Shoe is its supreme comfort . . . a precious gift to American women.

The three exclusive sources of its sensible comfort are: the arch bridge, the flat inner sole, the metatarsal support. Comfort features obtainable in no other shoe.

But Selby Arch Preserver comfort means more than just freedom from foot aches and troubles. Women who wear this shoe are pointed out for their free, flowing walk, their assured poise and their entrancingly curved instep.

Ordinary arch shoes, with ordinary lasts, and fitted unscientifically besides, can not possibly give the same measure of foot comfort or bring out adequately a woman's The NEW grace of poise and personality.
