SUNSET VALLEY HAS ITS ANNUAL MEETING

ing the municipal course and their continued interest in the promotion of the sport here. Medals commemorating these facts and the event of Monday evening were presented these men so honored by the club. The presentation was unique, being made by Miss Florence Smith representing a Scottish lassie and escorted by the Highland Piper and drummer.

In a similar manner medals were presented the cup winners and runners-up in the club tournaments during the past season. The winners of these trophies are as follows:

Trophy Winners

Club championship—Art Olson, (Alexander Cup); Runner up, William Chambers.

Highland Park Open—Dick Martin (Moraine Cup); Runner up, Art Olson.

President's Cup—Art Olson (Edw. M. Laing Cup); Runner up, John Kelley.

Ladies' Championship Cup—Mrs. G. G. Alexander (Alexander Cup); Runner up, Louise Willard.

Junior Boys' Cup—Jack Thomas (Alexander Cup); Runner up, Alex Wolak.

Three of these cups were added to the club's trophy list during the past season, including the President's cup, by Edw. M. Laing and the Woman's Championship and the Junior Championship cups, by W. A. Alexander. Mr. Alexander, it is noted, also gave the club its first cup, the Club Championship cup.

The principal speakers of the evening were W. A. Alexander, Samuel M. Hastings, Everett L. Millard, F. W. Cushing, John Oliver, M. J. Hardacre, C. H. Witt and Mr. Tregellis.

Praise President Laing

Each speaker took occasion to compliment President Laing on his splendid work for the club as evidenced by the excellent condition of the course and the fine annual report which he presented during the meeting showing the club's condition to be flourishing, with close to 30,000 registrations for play during the season. They expressed appreciation of his efficient and faithful services both as president of the club and as superintendent for the East Park district in caring for the parks and playgrounds of the city as well as the golf course. That this praise was well merited is appreciated by all who have noted the excellent results of Mr. Laing's hard work and genuine interest in everything pertaining to this department of civic welfare and progress.

Good Talks

Mr. Millard thanked the club for the honor done him and in addition commented on the splendid spirit and uniform courtesy on the course on the part of members playing there, which he felt was exceptional for a municipal course, and he congratulated the club on this point also. Mr. Alexander spoke of his long interest in golf and the benefits of the sport, his gratification at the progress of the club and appreciation of the honor done him and the memento of the occasion presented. Mr. Cushing also expressed his continued interest in the progress of the club and his appreciation of the honorary membership conferred. Mr. Hast remarked that as Mr. Alexander recalled how the latter had once as a caddy, the speaker also recalled that experience, as he had caddied for Mr. Alexander.

Tregellis spoke of the great amount of time and effort required to maintain such a course as Sunset Valley where so many players are used during a season and told of the experiments and progress made in work on the Lasker estate. Mr. Ver, Mr. Hardacre and Mr. Witt spoke in highly complimentary terms of progress of the club and its prospect of still greater advancement.

Hunter's Motion Pictures

After the speaking Charles Hunter of Hunter's Sport shop projected motion pictures on a screen showing scenes from the North Shore Open championship match June 5, 1929 also scenes on the parks and playgrounds administered by the H. East Park district. Mr. Hunter provided these pictures at his own expense, and they were greatly appreciated by the audience, who gave him a rising vote of thanks at close.

Four caddies from Sunset Valley—Donald McCaffrey, Francis Schmitt, Ben Shifflett and Harold Bloch cited in unison the following appropriate lines:

We are the caddies from Sunset Valley

High lee High lee High low

Where the Fairways are green

High lee High lee High low

We keep the balls clean

For the Duds and the Pros

High lee High lee High low

We are the caddies from Sunset Valley

High lee High lee High low

When you want a game of golf

That's the place to go

High lee High lee High low

Now we are caddies

Some day we'll be Pros

High lee High lee High low

The dinner served by the Green Teapot was a great success, for which Mrs. Green and her staff merit unstinted praise, members report, all present were unanimous in their appreciation of the splendid arrangements and excellent service.

Before the election of officers amendments to the constitution were adopted providing for a second vice-president and for a six-months salary to be paid the secretary. The officers and directors elected are as follows:

Officers and Directors

Officers—E. M. Laing, president; Elmer Skidmore, 1st vice-president; Arthur Olson, 2nd vice-president; F. Grant, treasurer; Ed. Conrad, secretary.

Directors—E. L. Millard, R. C. Zeman, F. W. Russo, Paul L. Udell, A. Wampler.

The nominating committee was composed of F. L. Ricketts, Walk Flinn, E. B. McKnight, C. H. Kruger, T. J. Kelly.

Auxiliary Meets Nov. 11
