

HINTS FOR THE HOME

Serving church suppers in cafeteria style adds a delightful touch of informality and at the same time insures hot food and quick service. Also it saves the women a good deal of work. The guests both serve themselves and clear their own places after the dinner, carrying their dishes to the serving shelf or whatever desired.

In the absence of a steam table or serving shelf, the plan can be nicely worked out by arranging the food on half a dozen oblong tables in the dining room, placed near the wall and convenient to kitchen and guest entrance.

The cafeteria supper should be an inexpensive two-course meal that is plentiful and spicy. Baked smoked ham is very popular, and it is one of several things that can be prepared in the home the day before the supper.

Removing Perfume Spots

If you want to remove perfume spots from linen, rub the spots gently with peroxide and let dry. This generally is successful on linen, but don't try it on other fabrics unless you feel very experimental.

Dyeing Lace

To change white lace to a cream color, dip it in a weak tea. To stiffen the lace, put a cube of sugar into the tea.

For the Teeth

A small amount of powdered pumice mixed with the regular tooth paste or powder and brushed over the teeth every four or five weeks will remove stains.

Saving Stockings

Many find that their silk stockings fade after two or three washings. To prevent this, rinse them—when they are new—in water to which a little vinegar has been added. This will keep them from fading for some time.

Two Fish on One Hook

Tomah, Wis.—“It can't be done,” Louie Shie, Tomah fisherman, said to his friends after reading a fish story in which a fisherman caught two fish on one hook. Shortly after, fishing near Mauston, he felt a strong tug at his line. Louie reeled away for a minute or two and landed a ten and one half pound pickerel as his prize. When Louie cleaned the fish he found a sixteen-inch pickerel inside the monster.

Remember the good old days when you believed that the villain in the melodrama was as bad as he pretended to be and that the heroine was as innocent as she pretended to be?

The nice thing about Indian summer is that you don't have to be an Indian to enjoy it.
