Interesting Happenings About This Part of North Shore; County Seat

Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle has received word of his appointment to the legislative committee of the Illinois Sheriffs' association, a position of importance in the organization.

Walter Atwell 83-year-old resident of Lake Villa district, died last week after lying in a partial swoon in his son's home in Lake Villa for almost five days, after he was found asphyxiated by coal gas beside the stove in his farm home.

John A. Faubel, veteran laundry firm head and long prominent in the business affairs of Waukegan, passed away at his home, 534 North Sheridan road last week, after an illness of months. He was 65 years old.

Gust Gregersky, proprietor of the Central Coal and Ice company of 1326 Greenfield avenue, North Chicago, was held-up and robbed of cash and checks totalling $167.21 while he sat in his office one night last week.

Thomas Goggins, 75, a resident of Lake county for 60 years and of Waukegan for the last 30 years, died last week at the Lake County General hospital. He had been in poor health for months.

Edwin Merton Jones, well known Lake county man, died last week at his home in Grayslake following an eight months illness. He was born May 11, 1865, on the same property on which he died.

A burglar of feminine tastes and preferences, broke into the home of William Smith at 422 North avenue, Waukegan, while the family was away making off with a $1,000 fur coat, and some bottles of perfume.

Seized by two men as he passed a driveway on North Jackson street, Waukegan, about midnight, Edward L. Salmon, proprietor of a store at 1220 Washington street, in that city, was hustled across the street into the dark and robbed of $100 in bills and several dollars in change, receipts from the store.

Police magistrates are not among the officers named under the constitution for cities under the commission form of government, and, according to Circuit Judge Claire C. Edwards, it is not mandatory that Waukegan should have a magistrate. This probably will settle a controversy over the matter in the county seat city.

Confiscate Many Guns from Hunters Arrested

Justice courts through the county have become miniature arsenals loaded with all types and brands of shot-guns taken from illegal hunters during the few days of the pheasant hunting season, according to Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle. The number of hunters arrested and weapons confiscated has developed a problem for the sheriff. He does not know if the guns are to be delivered to him by the justices of the peace or sent directly to Springfield. The sheriff stated that he intended to get an immediate opinion from Springfield. The guns ultimately, are taken there and destroyed or sold.

More than 100 arms were taken in Mundelein, Libertyville and Diamond Lake districts where Chicago hunters swarmed into the wealth of pheasant hunting grounds. Many paid large fines in addition to losing expensive guns.

State Motorcycle Cop Given Large Damages

John Daley, state motorcycle policeman who was seriously injured on June 5 in a collision on route 21 while in the performance of his duty, has been awarded a judgment of $3,000 against the Chicago Wet Wash Laundry company, whose truck was alleged to be responsible for the crash. Daley had sued for $10,000.

Several Damage Suits Result from Accident

Paul Warren, of Zion, whose arm was broken in August in an automobile accident and failed to knit, has sued the owner and driver of the truck involved in the collision in circuit court.

Warren was hurt August 28, near Everett when the car in which he was riding collided with a truck belonging to Nathan Wagner of Chicago, and driven by Edward Scopoline.

The damages asked are $50,000.

P. B. Newcomer, director of the Zion band, sued for $1,000 for damages to the machine.

Carl Newcomer, who was in the machine with Warren, asked $5,000 in another suit against the same parties for three broken ribs that kept him from serving in the Zion band.

Attorney L. Eric Carey stated that the truck owner was covered by insurance as far as he could learn.

Of course it may be true that the modern youth smokes too many cigarettes but do you remember how, in the good old days, they used to chew their tobacco?

THIS NEW FOCALIPSE HEATER

... provides extra comfort and warmth wherever you want it. Plug it into the bathroom when shaving or bathing—or into the living room or bedroom. It quickly takes the chill off for autumn days and evenings.

A new design makes the Focalipse more efficient than any heater yet devised. All the heat from the element is directed back to the reflector, which is shaped to throw it out over an area much wider than that possible with previous types of heaters.

When a little extra heat is needed for baby's bath, a Focalipse will provide it.
