

DEERFIELD-SHIELDS HIGH SCHOOL

FROSH AND SOPHS ELECT OFFICIALS

So far the freshmen and sophomores seem to be the most active in organizing their home rooms, as six freshman and five sophomore home rooms have elected officers, while only two junior and three senior home rooms have done this.

In Mr. Floyd's freshman home room, E 212, Edward Marder is president, Hubert Lidicker, vice-president, Ralph Olson, secretary, and Edmund Koebelin, treasurer.

In Mr. Slocum's home room, S 239, Boardman Burchard is president and Ray Gherardini, vice-president. The secretary-treasurer has not yet been elected.

In Miss Gorman's home room, English club room, Josephine Zook is president, Shirley Paulson, vice-president, Virginia Perkins, secretary, and Betty Anne Shephard, treasurer.

Miss McClure

In Miss McClure's home room, S 231, Mary Belfield is president, Helen Jean Abercromby, secretary. The others have not yet been elected.

In Miss Kerfoot's home room, E 305, Elsie Carlisle is president, Ellen Christensen, vice-president, Mabel Clark, treasurer, and Helen Cox, secretary.

In Miss Weldin's home room, E 214, Caroline Hofflander is president, and the secretary-treasurer is Mary Keller.

Now for sophomores. In Mr. Nelson's home room, auditorium, Art Emerson is president and Fred Fell, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Eiker

In Mr. Eiker's home room, library, William Sailer is president, George Ray, vice-president, Sterling Ruston, secretary, and Ted Pasquesi, treasurer.

In Mrs. Martin's home room, E 103, Katherine Haislip is president, Phylele Gourley, vice-president, Dorothy Hammond, social chairman (this is something new!), and Myra Jane Hut-ton, secretary-treasurer.

In Miss Roth's home room, industrial arts, Florence Leuer is president, Muriel Mowers, secretary-treasurer, and Anna Muto, social chairman.

Miss Wood

In Miss Wood's home room, E 305, Veronica Loesch is president, Wilma Melzer, vice-president, Janet McCaffrey, secretary-treasurer, and Lycke Lindquist, social chairman.

Names of councilors elected in all the home rooms have already been published in this paper. The names of the officers in the junior and senior home rooms will be published after all the officers have been elected.

BAND TO GIVE CONCERT AT OAK TERRACE SCHOOL

For the last week the band has been pretty busy getting lined up for the concert it is soon to hold at the Oak Terrace Grammar school.

The band has been reading a large number of pieces by various composers, and will soon select the ones they are going to present.

ELECT ELLIS-HUBLEY GARRICK PRESIDENTS

With about sixty-five members present, the first meeting of the Garrick club was held last Wednesday in the auditorium. Officers elected for the year are William Ellis, president, and John Hubley, vice-president.

William Ellis will be remembered as having taken the part of the doctor in the fall play, "The Poor Little Rich Girl," and John Hubley was the father in the same production. Though the boys have been given specific titles, they will act as co-presidents, since the election was such a close one—William winning by but one vote.

Workers in Membership

The membership of Garrick this year is made up of all students who aided in putting on the fall play, and also students who have taken part in former plays.

"Heretofore the club has been divided into two groups—those who act and those who attend," says Miss Comer, drama teacher. "This year, however, we are including only the workers—actors, back-stage committees, business department, etc."

It is the aim of Garrick at each meeting to present an impromptu program. Wednesday a number of students were called upon to entertain. Those who took part were Helen Meyer, who recited a poem; Faith Foyer, a recitation on ice-skating; Charles Rogers and George Meyer, a follies girl dance; Helen May Koon and Helen Jean Abercomby, scenes from the Merchant of Venice; and Brent Wrenn and George Meyer, a song entitled, "Sweet Violet."

Others Take Part

Helen Anselm, Mildred Attridge, and Olive Freeman acted a scene in a dentist's office; Mary Tyson gave scenes from a fall play rehearsal; Emily Watson, Selma Cook and Mildred Hobart acted a skit "in the park"; Virginia Jeffries and Eunice Hall—"in study hall"; Kenneth Masonic, Harry Burbach, Brent Wrenn, George Meyer, and Charles Rogers presented "The Chicago Civic Opera German Band"; Dorothy Scharlé and Mary Rockwell fought a duel, and Richard Youngs sang the song which he sang in the fall play.

The two presidents will appoint permanent chairmen of the various committees needed in producing plays. The first production to be put on by the club will be the Christmas play, "Robert of Sicily." This pageant was presented at Deerfield about three years ago, and it is being repeated this year by popular request.

"I hope you'll dance with me to-night, Mr. Jones."

"Oh, rather! I hope you don't think I came here merely for pleasure!"

"Was Maude in a bright red frock at the dance?"

"Some of her, darling; some of her."

LOCAL SWIMMERS IN LIGHT PRACTICE

With such men as Anderson, Loewenstein, Lester, Bieger, Wellman, and Hopkins out, Coach Kendig will be able to turn out a swimming team that will be "poison" to their opponents this season.

There are plenty of boys out for the junior team, which gives Coach Kendig a good choice of material to pick his team from.

Mr. Kendig is putting the boys through light practice until after the holidays, and then the boys will practice every night in the week. As it is now, they have the pool only three times a week.

With all the boys working hard to get in good condition, Coach Kendig is working just as hard to get in good condition. Coach Kendig is working just as hard with them, especially those who are out for the senior crawl, and the senior divers. Randall Roberts and Robert Bieger will do most of the diving for the seniors this year.

TENTATIVE PLANS MADE FOR BANQUET AT MEETING

At the meeting of the executive board of the Girls' club and three faculty members in the home economics department last Wednesday, it was suggested by Virginia Engels that the Mothers and Daughters banquet given by the Girls club should be held earlier in the year, perhaps in December or January.

Other topics that were discussed were chiefly in reference to the welfare work for needy families for Christmas, and also the making of baskets for the North Chicago hospital at Christmas time.

BOOK PUBLISHERS' JOURNAL PROVIDED BY LIBRARY

Deerfield-Shields library is now subscribing for a new weekly magazine called "Publisher's Weekly." It is the trade journal of the book publishers and book sellers.

Each week it prints a list of the books published during that week.

It has many caricatures on the pictures in books, and also of authors.
